One union miner killed and another fatally injured by a mob of strikers near Wilkesbarre.—Page 2.

LOCAL.

The Pittsburgh machine has about given up the idea of going into court to prevent the name of Judge Pennypacker appearing in the Citizens column, but has planned how its Democratic allies can move in the courts so as to embarrass the Citizens. The dream is yet to come true.—Page 3.

Director McCandless last night presented to common council the estimate prepared by the filtration engineers. It calls for an expenditure of $3,719,000, which is $1,219,000 in excess of the amount voted by the people at the last bond election for a filtration plant. An ordinance providing for an additional bond issue to meet this deficiency, accompanied the estimate.—Page 1.

A flood of new measures, all calling for heavy expenditures, were presented in common council last night by the machine. Lively interest attached to the meeting by reason of clashes between the machine men and the representatives of the Citizens party on tie votes, 15 of each side being present.—Page 5.

LEGAL.

Wedding of Miss Dora Brown and Dudley Frye in the jail settled $5,000 breach of promise suit in common pleas court.—Page 12.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were about $52,000 greater than the same day last year.—Page 11.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was more active than it has been in months. Steel, Coal, Brewing and Window Glass shares were features.—Page 11.

Directors of the United States National bank vote to increase the capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000. The new stock will be sold at $140 a share.—Page 11.

SCHWAB GIVES $10,000.

John W. Gates Induces Him to Contribute That Sum to a Rural Home for Boys.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Charles M. Schwab has given $10,000 to the fund for the erection of the new Rural Home and School for Boys. Henry A. Weaver said this afternoon that Mr. Schwab's check has been received by the committee.

This donation was secured through John W. Gates, who asked for and got it.

FAILED TO NOMINATE.

Senatorial Conferees at Oil City Adjourned in Deadlock.

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The fifth conference of the Republican conferees of the Forty-eighth senatorial district, comprising the counties of Venango and Warren, struggled for three hours tonight without coming to an agreement, finally adjourning to meet in Oil City Friday next, at the suggestion of the Warren members.

Those from Venango county refused to vote on the question of adjournment. Gen. W. J. Hollings of Oil City and Capt. H. H. Cummings of Warren, the candidates, both refuse to make any statement.

Democrats Nominate McCalmont.

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—At an adjourned meeting of the Democratic conferees from Venango and Warren counties, held here, Robert S. McCalmont of Franklin was nominated for state senator on the first ballot without opposition.

ROOSEVELT FIGHTING BLOOD UP

HANDS SHOWN ALL TOO EARLY

President at First Did Not Care for State Conventions to Act So Soon.

DOUBTS REMOVED BY ATTACKS ON POLICY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Light was thrown today by a member of the cabinet on the contest now raging between the supporters of President Roosevelt and the trusts as to whether the president shall have an unequivocal indorsement at the New York Republican State convention.

"The president," said this cabinet member, "is not asking anybody to give him an indorsement of any sort. He is willing to go before the people on his record, and if an indorsement comes, all well and good, whether it be an indorsement of his policies or a declaration in favor of his nomination in 1904.

"The president felt when California, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Delaware declared in favor of his nomination in 1904 that they were doing something which might not be necessary at this time. He thought it was a little too early for state conventions to commit themselves as to what, in their opinion, other state conventions should do two years hence; but as an expression of opinion utterly unsought for by his administration, it was particularly gratifying to him. If any state should indorse the president in advance of 1904, his friends thought New York should do it, but the president did not care much about that, and was willing to have the matter drift.

Trust Opposition Makes a Change.

"Recently, however, such bitter attacks have been made upon the president for assuming what he considered to be a perfectly rational and high position on the subject of great aggregations of capital, that a decided change came over the minds of his friends regarding what the New York state convention ought to do. I allude now particularly to his friends in New York state, where the attacks on the president have been most severe.

"They felt that inasmuch as the president had been assailed as the enemy of the trusts—which he is not—and as aiming to destroy the trusts—when he is only planning to correct such evils as may exist—the Republican party of his own state should come out flatly and frankly and indorse the policy which he has outlined with such frankness and yet with such moderation. This feeling became intensified when it became known that certain great representative financiers had unalterably made up their minds that the president should not be renominated, because of his attitude on trusts, and should not have an indorsement at Saratoga, which would count as such. They believe now that the Republican convention at Saratoga should distinctly and in specific terms indorse the position of the president; that publicity of corporations is needed; that it is necessary to bring them under government control, and that if this cannot be accomplished by legislation, it should be accomplished by a constitutional amendment.

President's Fighting Blood Up.

The president did not particularly care for an indorsement for 1904 until certain influential gentlemen, who felt that their great schemes for extending the trust system were being hampered, declared that he should have no indorsement. Then, of course, he wanted it. He is not going to interfere, however, to the slightest extent. I do not think he will turn over a hand to get either an indorsement of his trust policy or of his candidacy.

"Of the two, he would immeasurably prefer the first, and his friends in New York, undoubtedly will bend every effort to have Senator Platt, Gov. Odell and Col. Sherman of the state committee adopt that view and favor an emphatic plank about the trusts."

HOPES FOR G. A. KELLY.

The Pittsburgher Still Critically Ill at Stockbridge, Mass., Surrounded by His Family.

STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Suffering from acute indigestion and heart trouble, George A. Kelly of Pittsburgh is critically ill at the Red Lion inn. With him are several members of his family, including four children, Samuel, George, Grace and Agnes.

An attack of acute indigestion founded on a serious chronic heart trouble, brought him to a very low condition four days ago. Since that time he has recovered some strength, although on Sunday he was in a bad way. Today he has improved, and the family expresses hope that he will recover.

At 10 o'clock tonight it was said at the inn that Mr. Kelly was resting comfortably, but that there had been no increase of favorable symptoms in the latter part of the evening.

GOV. STONE IN NEW YORK.

It Is Rumored That He May Meet With the Anthracite Coal Operators.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone, accompanied by his wife, arrived tonight in this city from Harrisburg. At the Fifth Avenue hotel he refused to discuss any subject connected with the strike.

Tomorrow is the regular meeting day of the coal operators and the presidents of the coal roads. Gov. Stone's arrival gave rise to rumors that he might meet them in conference.

President Fowler of the New York, Ontario & Western said the holding of the meeting tomorrow would probably depend upon whether or not Mr. Baer should come from Philadelphia, where he is likely to be detained because of a recent serious accident to his daughter.

KAISER UNEASY OVER SINKING HAITIEN BOAT

Shows His Disquietude in a Talk With Adjt. General Corbin.

DIPLOMATIC NOTES FORESEEN IN BERLIN

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The destruction of the Haitien rebel gunboat by the Panther created a sensation in Berlin and is expected to lead to an exchange of diplomatic notes between the United States and Germany. At the palace dinner given to the American generals tonight the kaiser said to Adjt. Gen. Corbin:

"The matter is serious."

The marine ministry has given out the following official report of the sinking of the Firminist gunboat, Crete-a-Pierrot:

Capt. Eckermann of the Panther had received orders to capture the piratical gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot. The Panther went from Port au Prince to Gonaives, where it completely surprised the Crete-a-Pierrot. The German commandant sent the following ultimatum:

"Strike your colors within 15 minutes and disembark from your ship without undertaking any defensive measures whatever; otherwise an immediate attack will follow."

The Panther had already cleared for action. The Crete-a-Pierrot hauled down her flag within the alloted time and the crew disembarked. The Panther then intended to take the Crete-a-Pierrot in tow, but an explosion of her after-powder magazine soon occurred, which was evidently effected by the Firminist Pierrot's crew. The explosion destroyed her stern and set the vessel on fire, rendering taking her in tow impossible, especially as further explosions followed.

As this was regarded as a hostile act, and as the guns afore were still in condition, the Panther's captain caused the forward magazine to be exploded through a cannonade. After this exploded the Crete-a-Pierrot broke up and sank. The admiral was on board with the rebels.

Gonaives is in the hands of the rebels.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—Full official reports of the sinking of the Crete-a-Pierrot at Gonaives, Haiti, have been received from United States Minister Powell and Commander McLean of the United States cruiser Cincinnati.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, HAITI, Sept. 8.—The government began yesterday to arrest the partisans of Gen. Firmin, the revolutionary candidate for the presidency of Haiti, and this course of action is being continued.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Intense interest has been aroused here by the sinking of the revolutionary gunboat Crete-a-Perriot at Gonaives, Haiti, by the German cruiser Panther. Most of the papers expatiate upon the ominous possibilities which the affair has evoked.

The Daily News publishes a striking analogy of the personal characteristics of Emperor William and President Roosevelt, and refers to the possibilities of two men of "such amazing energy, who have so far only served their apprenticeship," being brought into a "conflict so powerful and so piquant that the faintest hint of it is sufficient to send a wave of excitement throughout the continents."

GEN. MILLER DROPS HIS DIVORCE SUIT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 8.—Gen. Charles Miller today withdrew the case instituted by him for divorce two weeks ago. His attorney, the Hon. J. H. Osmer, made a motion before Judge Criswell this morning asking that the case be discontinued, which was granted.

The action proved to be the biggest surprise that has taken place since litigation between the parties was begun two months ago. It could not be learned what caused Gen. Miller to make this move. That it was not a settlement or an agreement with Mrs. Miller is shown by the fact that Mrs. Miller's attorneys were prepared this morning to ask the court for alimony and counsel fees pending litigation.

By some people the act on the part of Gen. Miller is regarded as confirmatory of the rumor prevalent for several days that Gen. Miller intended to leave Franklin to locate in New York. Should Gen. Miller decide to do this his move would be in the nature of a calamity to Franklin, as he has practically been responsible for the growth of the city's industries for several years. It is believed that his connection with the Pennsylvania national guard and the Baptist church are factors that will hold Gen. Miller in Franklin.

MAINE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET GETS A BIG MAJORITY

A Full Congressional Delegation from the Pine State Is Also Elected.

LEGISLATURE VERY SOLID

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Portland, Me., Sept. 8.—Chairman Rimpson of the state committee tonight sent a message to the president, saying:

"Maine has gone Republican as it once went for Gov. Kent. We have carried the state by a plurality of 25,000. Have elected the entire delegation in congress by a large majority. Have chosen every senator with one exception; have nearly four-fifths of the legislature. The Pine Tree State indorses your administration."

A message of similar import was sent to Senator Hanna, also saying: "Maine has today shown her appreciation of the Republican policies which have given to our country prosperity unequaled in the history of the world."

Congressman Burleigh sent a message announcing the result to Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee. He said that the average off year Republican plurality has been 12,000.

A turning down of the prohibitory law enforcement sentiment in several counties was a feature of the election.

Congressman Allen of Alfred, Littlefield of Rockland, Burleigh of Augusta and Powers of Houlton were re-elected by pluralities below the figures of two years ago, which was a presidential year. Congressman Allen's plurality is about 2,000 less.

For the first time in 20 years a Democratic candidate, William M. Pennell, a former postmaster of Brunswick, was elected sheriff.

Returns for governor from 20 cities and towns give Hill (Republican), 3,719; Gould (Democrat), 1,911. The same towns in 1900 gave Hill (Republican), 3,750; Lord (Democrat), 2,241. These returns indicate a Republican loss of less than 1 per cent and a Democratic loss of nearly 15 per cent.

RIVER TURNS INTO ACTIVE BIG VOLCANO

Throws Up Great Clouds of Steam and Pebbles Over Its Course.

IN THE SHADOW OF SOUFRIERE

Little Eruptions All Over St. Vincent Changing Shape of the Island.

FIFTY WORKINGMEN'S TERRIBLE NIGHT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kingstown, St. Vincent, Sept. 6.—The sights in the windward district of this island resulting from the eruption of the Soufriere volcano of September 3 are very interesting.

The Rabacca river even now is a stream of fire a quarter of a mile or more wide. The greater part of the Rabacca estate is wrapped in vapor and there are mimic eruptions everywhere. The river bed is continuously throwing up columns and dense clouds of steam, mud and pebbles. The land has spread farther seaward, and is changing considerably the appearance of the district from what it was prior to September 3. This was probably caused by the ejecta that flowed down the slopes, filling the sea about the coast.

Fifty laborers, deceived by the apparent quietude of the volcano, were working within a fire zone Wednesday at the extreme north of the island, when they suddenly saw evidence of an approaching disturabnce of the mountain, but were unable to leave the spot before electric flashes and an outpour of gases drove them to their shelter, where they remained, at the base of the mountain, throughout the terrible night, while forked lightning darted in all directions around them. The men escaped unhurt and arrived at Kingstown yesterday.

The port officers of Chateau Belair, who saw the Soufriere from the sea, made the following report:

"The mountain is considerably lower than before September 3, and the appearance of the summit has changed. A large proportion evidently has been blown off and the hill has a more jagged contour. The neighborhood is altered. New ridges, valleys and a strange ravine have been cut in the west side of the volcano down to what was formerly the Carib settlement of Haracel, where liquid matter was seen flowing during the afternoon of September 3. The northwestern estates, Petit Bourdelle and Sharpes, are covered with from 10 to 20 inches of gritty substance. The crops of arrowroot and cocoa are ruined."

During the night of September 4, there was a terrific storm accompanied by blinding lightning and terrible peals of thunder, and a moaning sound from the agitated crater.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The Temps today published an interview with Prof. La Croix on his new mission to Martinique. He says he will start September 18, accompanied by several military officers. After a survey of the ground he will establish a number of posts of observation, supplied with proper instruments, in the neighborhood of the Mont Pelee volcano. These posts will be united by telephone with Fort-de-France in order to give timely notice of threatening signs and enable the authorities to take precautions. When this is done, Prof. LaCroix will make a thorough examination of the entire zone threatened by the volcano.

Bride Burned to Death.

NINE COUNCILMEN HELD IN ST. LOUIS ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Eighteen Warrants Are Issued and Avenues of Escape Are Guarded.

ONE MEMBER CONFESSES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—A sensation was caused today by the issuance of bench warrants for the arrest of 18 members and former members of the municipal house of delegates on the confession of Delegate J. K. Murrell, who fled to Mexico last spring after being indicted for bribery in connection with the alleged boodling operations of the municipal assembly in relation to the granting of street railroad franchises, and who unexpectedly returned to the city and surrendered. Murrell is now in the custody of Circuit Attorney Folk and will, it is stated, be granted immunity from punishment for turning state's evidence.

Following are the alleged combine members for whom bench warrants were issued charging bribery and perjury in connection with Suburban street railway and other legislation: Edward E. Murrell, John H. Schnettler, Charles F. Kelly, T. E. Albright, George F. Robertson, Louis Decker, John Helms, Charles A. Gutke, Adolph Madera, H. A. Faulkner, Julius Lehmann, Edmund Bersch, Otto Schumacher, John A. Sheridan, Charles J. Denny, William Tamblyn, J. J. Harrigan and Emile Hartman. Warrants were served on E. E. Murrell, Schnettler, Albright, Robertson, Helms, Gutke, Faulkner, Schumacher and Hannigan. Albright and Faulkner were released in bonds of $30,000 each. The others arrested were allowed to go to their homes in the custody of deputy sheriffs, who will remain with the accused until they shall have furnished surety.

With the exception of William Tamblyn, who is said to be in Cleveland, all the indicted delegates are believed to be in the city. The police are watching the bridge and other possible avenues of escape.

It is stated that Murrell has been in the city since last Friday, in the custody of the circuit attorney.

HARD TO TELL WHO WILL FILL MR. JACK'S SEAT

He Hopes to Be His Own Successor, but Rule Opposes Him.

NOMINATION MAY BE REACHED TODAY

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Sept. 8.—The Republican conferees in the Jefferson-Clarion-Indiana-Armstrong district will make an attempt in the morning to nominate a congressman. The candidates are all hopeful of success and there is a feeling at present that a choice can be made without asking the state committee for assistance. The state rule does not become operative until Wednesday night.

The candidates are Congressman S. M. Jack, Indiana, and a native of Jefferson; W. O. Smith, editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit; Francis J. Maffett, a lawyer of Clarion, and Maj. Joseph G. Beale, a coal operator of Armstrong. All of the aspirants have a number of leading Republicans of their counties here. There is every evidence that the contest will be clean and friendly.

Congressman Jack is serving his second term. Mr. Smith has for the last three times had the indorsement of his county. Maj. Beale has sought a congressional nomination for many years, but so far has been unable to bag the game.

New Man in the Arena.

Mr. Maffett is a new man in the congressional arena. He is a relative of ex-Congressman J. D. Maffett of Clarion.

It would be unfair to say that any of the four men are in the lead at this time, it is true four ballots were taken this evening, but there was nothing to indicate where the plum would drop.

Mr. Jack has had two terms, previous to his election; Armstrong had the congressman for an equal length of time, having succeeded Westmoreland. Jefferson is really next in line of succession, if the two-term rule is to be kept in force. Clarion was put into the district by the last legislature.

The first conference was held at Hotel Pantal late this afternoon. The following conferees represented the counties: Armstrong, Col. S. M. Jackson, A. J. Elliott, A. S. McKee; Clarion, G. L. Thomas, J. M. Owens, E. M. Wilson; Indiana, Thomas E. Hildebrand, Senator John S. Fisher, Dr. H. L. McCullough; Jefferson, ex-Senator James G. Mitchell, J. B. Henderson, T. M. Kurtz. Col. Jackson was chosen president of the conference and Messrs. Hildebrand and Henderson, secretaries.

Four Fruitless Ballots.

Four ballots were taken at the afternoon conference. On the first three each candidate received the votes of his conferees. On the fourth, Senator Fisher of Indiana voted for Maj. Beale, making the Armstrong candidate high man. It was then decided to adjourn until tomorrow morning.

The friends of Smith predict that he will be able to secure the nomination before noon. Under the state rules, if a nomination is not made by midnight Wednesday, Chairman Quay will appoint an additional conferee for each county. If the increased conference does not make a nomination within five days, a referee with full power to make a selection will be named by Quay. The candidates say they prefer to make a nomination without assistance from without the district.

Two years ago almost the same men had the same desire, but none of them cared to surrender his ambition. It may be so again, and when Wednesday midnight comes there may be a deadlock in the district. So far the candidates have not formed any combinations, each man attending to his own lightning rod.

Jefferson claims that the nomination of Smith will assure a good Republican majority in Jefferson this fall. As matters now stand there is said to be some bad spots in the county. The same is true of Indiana. From information gotten here today, it will be necessary for Attorney General John P. Elkin to straighten a number of political kinks in his county if the Republican state ticket is to be given an old-time Republican majority.

Some of Elkin's Friends Sore.

The trouble is caused by friends of Elkin who are sore because he did not get the gubernatorial nomination. He is doing everything he can to smooth the rough places. There is no danger of the Democrats carrying either Indiana or

FILTRATION ESTIMATE IS $3,719,000

Another Bond Issue of $1,219,000 Will Be Necessary.

MATTER PUT UP TO COUNCILS AT LAST

McCandless Handed Estimate and Bond Ordinance to Common Council.

ESTIMATE DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR COVERS

As projected by the city government, the proposed sand filtration plant will cost $3,719,000. The estimate of the total cost was sent to common council last night by Director J. Guy McCandless, naming the above figures. This does not include the cost of covering the filter beds, which is estimated to cost about $800,000 bringing the actual cost close to $4,500,000.

The estimate, with the communication of the director, was accompanied by an ordinance providing for submitting to the vote of the people the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $1,219,000 to make up the deficiency between the total cost and the amount which the city has with which to build the plant, viz., $2,500,000.

The communication and accompanying ordinances were presented by Joseph G. Armstrong, to whom they had been handed by Director McCandless. Mr. Armstrong also presented seven ordinances authorizing the city recorder and the director of the department of public works to award seven contracts for the construction of various parts of the plant, the seven comprising the entire plant.

Number of Contracts Increased.

It was originally intended to have the entire plant built in three contracts, but this has been changed and the filtration engineers have recommended that the work be divided into seven contracts.

Still another ordinance which accompanied the communication provides for submitting to the qualified electors of the city the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $1,219,000, the money to be applied to the deficit between the $2,500,000, which was originally voted for a filtration plant in November, 1899, and the $3,719,000 which the plant is now to cost.

There is a long preamble to this ordinance, which recites that in November, 1899, the citizens of Pittsburgh voted to increase the bonded indebtedness of the city to the amount of $2,500,000 for a filtration plant and that it is now found that this amount is not sufficient, but that $1,219,000 additional will be needed. No date for the election is fixed. The bonds are to draw interest at 4 per cent, and are to run 30 years.

Director McCandless was asked whether he had any date to suggest, and stated that he left that blank, so that councils, if they desired to pass the ordinance, could fix a date to suit themselves. The director also said that the election could, if desired, be held on the date of the state election, which would reduce the cost to a minimum. All these ordinances went to the committee on finance. On motion of Mr. Armstrong the communication of Director McCandless was received, filed and was also sent to that committee.

Director McCandless' communication was as follows:

McCandless Lifts the Veil.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8, 1902.

To the Presidents and Members of Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I submit herewith estimates of the whole cost of the proposed filtration plant, including the establishment of a meter system; also complete plans and specifications relating thereto. These estimates are fully set forth in a communication under date of September 2, 1902, addressed to me by Morris Knowles, resident filtration engineer, and approved by Allen Hazen, consulting filtration engineer, which communication I attach hereto. The complete estimate is $3,719,000.00, which is $1,219,000.00 in excess of the bond issue.

I also submit herewith forms of proposed ordinances authorizing the letting of contracts in accordance with the estimates and recommendations of the engineers, together with the form of a proposed ordinance referring to the electors of the city the question whether an additional bond issue should be made.

The estimtes submitted to you in my letter of April 14, 1902, were, as stated, therein, as to a part of the proposed improvement, incomplete because the plans and specifications were not at that time fully prepared. The present estimates are based upon completed plans and specifications.

These estimates, plans and specifications and forms of proposed ordinances, I submit for the consideration of your honorable bodies. Respectfully,

J. GUY McCANDLESS,
Director Department of Public Works.

The Figures of Knowles.

Accompanying this communication from Director McCandless was the following from Engineer Knowles, approved and indorsed by Engineer Hazen:

Pittsburgh, Sept. 2, 1902.

Dr. J. Guy McCandless, Director of the Department of Public Works, City Hall, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Dear Sir—In accordance with your instructions, received subsequent to my report of April 1, I submit herewith an estimate of the cost of the proposed filtration plant for the city of Pittsburgh, based in all particulars upon detailed contract plans and specifications relating thereto, which contract plans and specifications are on file in this office.

Contract No. 1—Filter, basins and appurtenances	$1,550,000 00
Contract No. 2—Filter, water reservoir and appurtenances	225,000 00
Contract No. 3—River crossings, intakes, connections, screen chamber and appurtenances	225,000 00
Contract No. 4—Three 35,000,000 gallon pumping engines	360,000 00
Contract No. 5—Boilers and appurtenances	50,000 00
Contract No. 6—Sand washing pumps, electric engines and generators, crane, machine-shop equipment, outside wiring and appurtenances	50,000 00
Contract No. 7—Pumping station, including boiler-house, chimney and appurtenances	170,000 00
	$2,370,000 00
Land secured and paid for	$ 278,757 63
Add for engineering and contingencies, including amounts already spent upon this work, about 10 per cent of the estimates for contract work..... 256,846 37

Total $3,065,000 00
Meter system as per report of April 1, 1902 ..... 654,000 00

Total for filtration plant, including meter system..... $3,719,000 00

The sums which are given above for doing the various parts of the work are somewhat in excess of those which I believe to be sufficient for doing the work at the present time upon a reasonable basis. It is necessary to make the estimate in this way, because the city charter requires that no contract shall be let for more than the estimated cost of doing the work. In order to avoid delays and re-lettings, the estimate has been made sufficiently liberal, so that I believe it is reasonably sure that bids can be obtained within the estimate for each part of the work.

What the April Estimate Was.

The estimate of April 1, 1902, for "filters, basins and appurtenances," and for "filtered water reservoir and appurtenances," now called in this report "Contracts 1 and 2," and comprising 69 per cent of the whole contract work, was based upon plans and quantities by items; the remainder, or 31 per cent of the contract work, was based upon preliminary plans and sketches, sufficient, however, to give us an idea of what the work would cost.

Since that date specifications and contract plans have been prepared for the 31 per cent. which are now completed and the plans signed. The estimate of this date, therefore, for the whole of the filter plant, including all accessories, is based upon detailed items taken from specifications and contract plans, which are ready for receiving bids.

Since making the estimate of April 1 prices of various materials have advanced, and it has been necessary to increase the estimates accordingly on many items. The estimates for the pumping station building and machinery are for a complete plant and based upon a few contracts in which many different machines are grouped. The cost can probably be reduced by letting the contract for the pumping engines first, and then drawing the plans and specifications for other parts of the work successively in small contracts, as recommended in my letter of May 19. By doing the work in this way a pumping station plant can be built for somewhat less money than is now estimated.

Drain on Water Supply is Increasing.

In view of the recent discussions upon the size of the plant, it may not be amiss to state that in making designs for a filter plant of the size recommended in the report of the filtration commission (viz., 25 beds of one acre each), we are not providing for filtering any more water than is likely to be drawn from the Pittsburgh municipal water system.

When the report of the filtration commission was made the amount of water pumped at the Brilliant pumping station was about 50,000,000 gallons per day, but today the amount is about 60,000,000 gallons, and is steadily increasing. The design of the filter plant, as stated in the report of the filtration commission, contemplated an average daily use of 50,000,000 gallons of water, the extra beds being for the demands of certain periods when the consumption is above the annual average, and for seven beds being out of service for cleaning and sanding.

Nothing has been done to meter the services in the city, and, although probably two-thirds of the water is wasted, we must, in providing for the health and business prosperity of the city, be governed by what is, and not by what ought to be. If meters are introduced, as they will, it is not likely that within the time which it will take to build a filter plant, the waste will be so reduced as to bring the consumption much below an annual average of 50,000,000 gallons per day, which is the amount for which the plant was designed.

Significant Note of Warning.

Common prudence demands a plant of the present size in order to provide for conditions as we find them. Unless the waste is restricted the plant now proposed will be too small to meet the consumption which must be expected in the near future, perhaps even before the plant is completed. Respectfully submitted. MORRIS KNOWLES,
Resident Filtration Engineer.

Approved:
ALLEN HAZEN, Consulting Filtration Engineer.

After the meeting President C. S. Crawford was asked as to his opinion of the estimate and the bond ordinance. "The estimate is high," said Mr. Crawford, "and it does not provide for the cost of covering the filter beds, which will be $800,000 or $900,000 more. It would certainly be folly to go into it without more money. As to the ordinance for a bond issue, I do not believe the people will vote more money."

Chairman W. H. Stevenson of the finance committee said: "The estimate is high, but it is now up to the people. As to the ordinance for submitting the bond question to the people, I think that is the only thing to do. The people should now say what they want."

The approximate estimate sent to councils in May by Director McCandless was $3,500,000.

CONFEREES ARE HERE.

Will Try to Nominate for the Twenty-third District.

The conferees of the Twenty-third congressional district arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday, and will today hold their second meeting to decide on the Republican nominee for congress from that district. The first meeting was held last Friday, but adjourned with a deadlock. The district is composed of Somerset, Fayette and Greene counties. The Somerset and Fayette conferees arrived at the Monongahela house last night, but as the Greene county men had not yet come, it was decided not to hold a conference until 2 p. m. today.

The three candidates for congress, Senator D. S. Walton of Greene county, J. A. Berkey of Somerset, and A. F. Cooper of Fayette are on hand. Each of them is hopeful of success, and all say they hope that the matter will be settled at today's meeting.

THE WEATHER.

Today, in contrast to yesterday's pleasant atmospheric conditions and clear skies, will be cloudy and showery. The attendant discomforts of rain and muddy streets will be with us. Tomorrow, according to the forecast, will be ushered in fair and cooler. The maximum yesterday was 85, the minimum 59 at 5 a. m. The Gazette's weather service thermometer at the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street registered the following yesterday:

NORTH CAROLINA WILL ENTERTAIN THE PRESIDENT

Now in That State After Two Busy Days in Historic Tennessee.

INTERRUPTED BY STORM AT KNOXVILLE.

Made an Honorary Member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen in the Convention at Chattanooga.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 8.—After spending a good part of the day with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who are holding their convention in Chattanooga, President Roosevelt braved a drenching rainstorm late in the afternoon and was driven through Knoxville streets lined with people to a stand in Main avenue, nearly a mile from the depot, where he spoke to 12,000 people who awaited him during the downpour.

The presidential special arrived promptly at 5 o'clock and was met by a large reception committee, the Sixth Regiment band and a battalion of militia. After the president said he could stand the storm to see the people if the people could to see him, carriages were taken and proceeded to the speaker's stand in front of the Woman's building. All along the line of march the president stood with bared head bowing to the cheering throng.

Tempest Drowned His Words.

The president made a brief address, praising Tennessee for what it had achieved both in war and in peace. Before he closed the storm had reached such fury that the president's voice could not be heard ten feet from the stand.

The entire party again took carriages and were driven to the home of Mrs. William G. Brownlow, wife of Tennessee's famous editor, former governor and United States senator. The president spent several minutes with the aged lady. Then the University of Tennessee was visited, after which the party returned to the depot.

The special pulled out at promptly 7 o'clock. Hot Springs, N. C., will be reached about 10 o'clock, and the party will spend the night there, going into Asheville at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt today was elected an honorary member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. He attended the executive session of the order in the morning, walking from the hotel to the Auditorium, a distance of a few blocks, escorted by Grand Master Sargent, a committee of the Brotherhood and a detachment of Troop B, state guard.

Given a Pass to Everything.

The president thanked the convention for the compliment paid him, and Grand Master Sargent gave him a pass which admits him to all meetings of the brotherhood.

The public was admitted to the Auditorium to hear the president's address. Among other things he said:

I believe emphatically in organized labor. I believe in organizations of wage-workers. Organization is one of the laws of our social and economical development at this time. But I feel that we must always keep before our minds the fact that there is nothing sacred in the name itself. To call an organization an organization does not make it a good one. The worth of an organization depends upon its being handled with the courage, the skill, the wisdom, the spirit of fair-dealing as between man and man, and the wise self-restraint which I am glad to be able to say your brotherhood has shown.

Your work is hard. Do you suppose I mention that because I pity you? No, not a bit. I don't pity any man who does hard and worth doing. I admire him. I pity the creature who does not work, at whatever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being. The law of worthy work well done is the law of successful American life. I believe in play, too. Play, and play hard while you play; but don't make the mistake of thinking that is the main thing. The work is what counts, and if a man does his work well, and it is worth doing, then it matters but little in which line the work is done—the man is a good American citizen. If he does his work in slipshod fashion, then no matter what kind of work it is, he is a poor American citizen.

Calling Has a Tonic Effect.

There is in modern life, with the growth of civilization, with the growth of luxury, a certain tendency to softening of the national fibre. There is a certain tendency to forget, in consequence of their disuse, the rugged virtues which inspire life at the back of manhood; and I feel that professions like yours, like the profession of the railroad men of the country, have a tonic effect upon the whole body politic.

We need good laws, we need a good fundamental law of the type that we call the constitution; but back of it all lies the need for the lack of which nothing else can supply—the need for a higher average of individual citizenship.

In closing, the president praised the virile American qualities displayed in the death struggles around Chickamauga and Chattanooga, and under his own personal observation at Santiago.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—When President Roosevelt returns to Oyster Bay his most important visitor will be Senator Hanna. It is understood that he has fixed Wednesday of next week as the date most convenient for him.

SUMNER TO LEAD COLUMN

Americans Preparing to Make Attack on Macin Moros Within a Week.

MANILA, Sept. 8.—Gen. Chaffee has ordered Gen. Sumner, commanding the department of Mindanao, to lead a column against the Macin Moros. In his order Gen. Chaffee suggests that eight companies of infantry, two troops of cavalry and one battery shall form at Camp Vicars, island of Mindanao. It is expected that the column will move within a week.

Most of the attacks upon the American forces have originated in the Macin country. This movement is to be directed to require the hostiles to give a satisfactory pledge to refrain from aggression in the future. There are several Moro strongholds in the Macin country. It is not definitely known where the first opposition will be encountered. This will depend upon Gen. Sumner's course after moving. Gen. Sumner is directed to protect the friendly natives.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The war department is advised by cable from Gen. Chaffee, dated Manila, September 6, of an attack on the troops at Matiling Falls, seven miles from Camp Vicars, September 1. First Lieut. William M. Parker, Eleventh infantry, and two soldiers were wounded and one soldier killed.

"The Last Until 1903."

The Pennsylvania railroad will run the last of the Seashore Excursions on Thursday, September 11, 1902, leaving Union Station by special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches at 8:55 a. m. through to Atlantic City without change. Evening trains leave at 7:10 p. m. with sleeping cars to Atlantic City, and 9 p. m. for Philadelphia. Rate $10.00. Tickets good 10 days.

Funeral from the residence of his son, James E. Benney, Stevenson and Forest avenues, Reserva, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment private.

STRIKERS KILLED MEMBER OF UNION

ANOTHER FATALLY HURT DURING RIOT.

Mob Surrounded Colliery and Attacked Two Italians—Special Policemen Threatened.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 8.—A fight occurred between striking miners at Maltby this morning, which resulted in the death of one man and the fatal injuring of another. The victims were Italians. The man killed was Sisdeno Van Castelli, aged 36. His companion, Frank Portay, was stabbed several times and he is not expected to live. He is now in the Wilkesbarre hospital.

All last night strikers gathered in the vicinity of the Maltby mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company at Maltby and the Harry E. colliery at Forty Fort. It was rumored that both of these mines were to start today with a full force of men, and the strikers had pickets out on all roads leading to the mines to intercept any men who might be on their way to work. A heavy fog prevailed, and it was difficult to see people in the roadway.

Shortly after 7 o'clock a number of strikers on guard at the Maltby colliery saw two men approaching. They carried guns. The pickets came to the conclusion at once that they were non-union men going to work armed. The strikers crowded around them. One striker, who understood the language, stated that one man spoke in Italian and said that he and his companion were starting out on a hunting trip, and that they were union miners.

But the other strikers did not know what was said and attempted to take the gun away from Van Castelli. He resisted. A fight then ensued and soon the two Italians were lying in a pool of blood in the roadway. Van Castelli was shot in the side and the left side of his face was crushed in. His companion was stabbed in the side several times.

A number of coal and iron policemen were on the scene a few minutes after the discharge of the gun was heard. Van Castelli was found dead and Portray was unconscious. In one of the pockets of Van Castelli's coat was found a union miner's card. The news of the riot brought a large number of deputy sheriffs to the scene, and upon their arrival the mob dispersed. Martin and John Mahonie were arrested, charged with being leaders of the mob.

A crowd of 2,000 men and boys surrounded the town hall of Edwardsville this morning. Hiram Fisher was confined in the lockup there charged with shooting a Polish woman last night. He fired into a number of strikers who held him up, and the bullet went wild and slightly wounded the woman, who was seated on the stoop of her house. After being terribly beaten by the mob Fisher was finally lodged in the town lockup.

Burgess Dando was afraid to give Fisher a hearing, as the crowd on the outside threatened to lynch him if they laid their hands on him. At noon, under strong guard, Fisher was removed to an ambulance and driven to this city, where his injuries were dressed at the hospital. Some of the foreigners attempted to hold up the ambulance, but were driven off by special officers.

Sheriff Jacobs was much exercised today over the riots and bloodshed in the county, and at one time it was thought he would have to call upon the militia for aid. Some citizens urged him to do so without delay. But this afternoon order was pretty well restored in the Wyoming valley and if there are no more outbreaks the sheriff will not ask the governor for troops.

HARD TO TELL WHO WILL FILL MR. JACK'S SEAT

Jefferson. The best they can hope for is a reduction in the majorities. Neither Attorney General Elkin nor Senator Mitchell desire this to happen this year.

Armstrong is in a healthy condition, politically. They have no troubles over there, unless it is apathy, and that complaint will be cured in plenty of time. The nomination of Maj. Beale certainly would increase the majority.

Clarion is Democratic, but broke loose from her moorings last fall and elected Harry R. Wilson, a Republican, judge. Clarion Republicans say that if Mr. Maffett is given the nomination there is a strong probability of putting the county in the Republican column this fall.

The following Republican leaders are here to help their candidates: Judge Harry R. Wilson, Clarion; J. N. Langham, H. M. Lowrey, A. T. Moorhead, W. J. Mitchell, John Taylor, W. R. Calhoun, Indiana, and H. H. Wray, Armstrong. Leading Republicans from all over Jefferson are in town to boom Smith. Dr. McMains of Leechburg wired Maj. Beale tonight that he would be here in the morning to help win the nomination for Armstrong.

Col. Jackson of Apollo and Judge Wilson of Clarion are both suspected of having a ambition to get into congress from this district, a little later along.

TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN.

Soldiers Being Recalled from West Virginia Mines and Strike Seems Near an End.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The troops are being withdrawn from the New River field and the general impression is that the miners' strike is about ended. Gov. White issued orders for the withdrawal of the signal corps of Charleston, Company B of Roncerverte and three Huntington companies, which have been doing duty at the mines. Adjt. Gen. Parker left here this evening for Thurmond. If his report is favorable the remainder of the troops will be withdrawn.

Reports from New River today were that about 400 former employes had gone to work this morning, the larger proportion being at Red Ash, Rushrun, Harvey, Prudence, Brooklyn and Red Star. It was reported today that the miners were holding a secret meeting in the mountains near Thurmond for the purpose of securing the official declaration that the strike is off.

In the Kanawha field more men were working today than last week and the situation seems very hopeful for an early resumption at all the mines.

MANY PROTESTS ON CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS

Methodist Protestants Have Warmest Time in Their History.

TRINITY CHURCH TALKS OF SECEDING

Congregations Demand Ministers Whom the Assignment Committee Refuses to Give Them. Report Finally Adopted.

Not in the history of the Methodist Protestant church in these parts has there been such a struggle as was waged yesterday from the moment the stationing committee of the Pittsburgh conference made its report. The committee spent three days making out the list of appointments. It was 4:30 p. m. when the committee came into the conference. Scarcely five minutes later they were closeted again for revision. For five hours the committee worried its brains making appointments. Still there was a protest. The affair became so heated at one time that the delegates from Trinity church arose and declared that Trinity would withdraw from the denomination unless its request was granted.

Trinity church's first choice was the Rev. J. C. Broomfield of the Fourth church, this city. Trinity's second choice was the Rev. C. M. Lippincott, one of the youngest preachers in the conference, but a man of remarkable ability. The committee, for reasons of its own, ignored Trinity's request. The First church, Allegheny, absolutely refused to consider any other pastor than the Rev. A. T. Steele, and decided to provide its own supplies this year. This church held a congregational meeting Sunday morning and elected Mr. Steele its pastor, to succeed the Rev. J. H. Lucas, who resigned to become pastor of Fairmont church, W. Va. The delegate was instructed to fight for Steele to the last.

After five hours of hard work the committee was ready to report. President Gladden read the revised report without a word of comment. The First church, Allegheny, was "unsupplied." The Rev. George W. Morris was assigned to Trinity and the Rev. A. T. Steele was sent to Waynesburg. Mt. Olive was given the Rev. Z. C. Roberts, a minister from another conference. The Rev. C. M. Lippincott was held at the call of the president. President Gladden had scarcely finished the report when the delegate from Mt. Olive arose and "objected." President Gladden was evidently impatient, but he managed to suppress it. "This means that we'll have to go back to work again. It means another day's session," he said.

A storm of protest arose. Someone moved that the report be adopted, and it was. Harry Palmer, delegate from Trinity, threatened that Trinity would sever its connection unless Mr. Broomfield was made its pastor. The revised report had been adopted, however, and his appeal was unavailing.

The official list of appointments is as follows:

Pittsburgh district—First, R. J. Young; Second, I. A. Barnes; Fourth, J. C. Brownfield; First, South Side, J. A. Johnston; First, Allegheny, to be supplied; Trinity, Allegheny, George W. Morris; Sharpsburg, Lyman E. Davis; Bellevue, George Shaffer; Hoboken, to be supplied; Springdale, to be supplied; Fox Chapel, to be supplied; Kittanning, to be supplied by J. H. Lamberton; Belleview and Coal Bluff, Adam X. Rush; Knoxville, F. M. Foster; Mt. Washington, J. W. Righter; Castle Shannon, B. F. Anthony; Bakerstown, to be supplied; Mt. Olive, Z. C. Roberts; Braddock, to be supplied by F. W. Perkins; Turtle Creek, J. H. Shimp; Idlewood, C. J. Sanders; Fair Haven, F. N. Foster; Sherden Terrace, H. L. Freeman, supernumerary assistant to Springdale charge, M. G. G. Fink, supernumerary assistant to First church, Pittsburgh, W. H. Phipps.

New Brighton district—New Brighton, A. E. Fletcher; Beaver Falls, C. F. Swift; Youngstown, J. F. Dyer; Trumbull, to be supplied; Turnersville, to be supplied; Orange, William Harris; East Liverpool, Dr. Young; Mt. Pleasanter circuit, W. A. Curfman; Ohio circuit, J. C. Carpenter; New Cumberland, J. F. Dinit.

Connellsville district—Connellsville, W. H. Glasow; Broadford, W. A. Russell; Dunbar, E. J. Wilson; Stanistown, B. F. Sadler; Hopwood, S. C. Benninger, Fairchance circuit, A. H. Martin to supply; First church, to be supplied by George H. Delaplaine; Mt. Pleasant, E. Heasley; Brownsville, to be supplied; Fairmont, J. H. Lucas.

Washington district—Washington, G. C. C. Sheppard; Amity, E. C. Lane; Waynesburg, A. T. Steele; Rogersville and Morrisville, J. W. Colhouer; Monongahela circuit, R. B. Whitehead; Fairview and Long Run, to be supplied.

While the stationing committee was compiling its report, the conference proper was crowding an unusual amount of work into its last sessions. On motion it was decided to celebrate the diamond jubilee of the establishment of the Methodist Protestant church next year.

Your Home and Its Refurnishing.

Putting the home in Autumn and Winter dress requires some discussion, and as the present is opportune, we should like to talk the matter over with you.

This is especially desirable in the matter of Window Shades that have to be made to order. Besides choosing the materials, the question of correct measurements is to be considered, and that work takes some time.

We can do the work for you as well as it is possible for such work to be done, and we are quite sanguine that our prices will be lower than the same class of work is charged for by the few around Pittsburg who do clever work.

As to window shadings, we have a big stock of the preferred Scotch Hollands, as well as the different varieties of oiled cloth that is perfectly opaque.

Other things for the home, in which every woman is interested, are

New Lace Curtains, the favorite Nottinghams. All the new patterns that have been brought out for Autumn are ready, and each is prepossessing. A wide range of designs and a wide range of prices—50c to $8.50 a pair.

Then there are the new Cretonnes for draperies. A refreshing lot of new ideas both in the Cretonnes made in Europe and those of this country. The least expensive as well as the finest woven.

The new stuffs for Furniture Slip Covers are also ready, and we are just as ready to make the covers for you. We must tell you, however, that our order books are fast filling up. If such work is to be done in a hurry, we shall ask you to see us soon.

Another Lot of New Silks From France.

Our silk exhibit is marvelous. It is fully entitled to that superlative. It is on that extended plane commensurate with the great trade this department enjoys, and that is expected of it by its thousands of customers.

Among the new arrivals in colors are

Pompadour Crepe de Chine in evening shades.

Persian Pompadours in Fall colorings.

Faille Duchess Faconne in chameleon effects, and a

Glace Taffeta in barre effects.

Among the new arrivals in black are

Black Moire Sirene,

Black Etuelle, a new effect in moire velour, and several other prominent novelties.

In the way of a special we cite a 44-inch wide Black Crepe de Chine, a regular $2.50 grade, for the even $2 a yard.

The New Velvets.

In the evening and street shades we have a new Velvet called Velour Macre, something of exquisite beauty.

There is also a wide range of qualities in the popular Velour du Nord, and as for the Panne Velvets there is everything required in light and dark colors.

We have a special in Corduroy that is worth inquiring about: A 27-inch width in brown, black and blue, and the price is only 75c a yard.

Heavy Cotton Waists for Girls.

Just in time for girls who leave for their seminaries this week.

White, also white with pin stripes, made with high stock collar.

Prices are $1.25, $1.50 and $2.25.

New and Exclusive Woolens.

French.

An importation of beautiful dress woolens has just reached us per a late steamer from France—a personal selection—among which we ask you to see, and comment upon.

Autumn Coverings for the Bed.

The Basement Bedding Department Ready With an Engaging Variety.

Time for discussing Blankets and Comfortables. Cool nights, especially near dawn, urges everyone to look up warmer coverings for the bed.

As each season sees the store far ahead in its volume of business over the preceding season, so the beginning of the cool period finds us with a greater variety of splendid Bed Coverings than ever before carried by this department.

Besides the most complete variety the matter of less prices is a feature of this department. Its aim is to give you better grades of coverings than you can buy anywhere for the same money. That that is thoroughly understood is manifest by the tremendous trade we enjoy in high-grade bedding.

From the choicest the market produces the following is taken for your guidance in buying Autumn bed coverings.

Blankets.

500 pairs strictly all wool Blankets—plain gray, plain scarlet, black and white and red and black plaids, for the remarkable small price of $2.50 a pair.

500 pairs of strictly all wool Country-made Blankets, unnapped, the kind that wash without shrinking, and always remain soft. They come in plain white with pink and blue borders, and pink and white and blue and white plaids. $3.25 a pair.

1,000 pairs Blankets at $4, $5 and $6 the pair, that are worth an even dollar a pair more.

For the finest Blankets woven the prices take a wide range, $7, $8, $9, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $20 a pair.

Comfortables.

500 Cotton Comforts, filled with pure white cotton and covered with pretty silkoline, the regular price $1.25, our special price $1 Each.

MACHINE HOPES DEMOCRATS WILL PULL CHESTNUTS

Looks to Democratic Friends to Proceed Against Citizens Party.

DREAM OF ORGANIZATION FOLLOWERS

In Their Minds They Have It All Mapped Out How Democrats Can Take Action That Will Seriously Embarrass Citizens.

The Pittsburgh machine has about given up the idea of going officially into court to prevent the indorsement and nomination by the Citizens party of the Republican state candidates. The machine threatened to have the nomination of Judge Pennypacker and the other state candidates by the Citizens party declared illegal. That was early in the game. The machine men have abandoned their first idea, but are full of hope that the Democrats of Allegheny county will do what they first threatened to do.

According to the machine men's dream, many Democrats are merely waiting to see what the Democratic congressional committee will do regarding the congressional candidates on the Citizens ticket. If the committee sanctions the nomination of Republicans on the fusion ticket, then some of the Democrats, so machine men say, will go into court and knock the nomination of Pennypacker into a cocked hat; but if the committee insists that Democrats must be named for congress, then the Democrats who are lying in wait will subside gracefully, says the machine.

Theory on Which the Machine Hopes.

This is the theory on which the machine's hope is based: The Democrats who are reported to be so willing to help the discredited local organization out, are said to be anxious to vote for Pattison and Guthrie. The Democratic column will contain Pattison and Guthrie's names, but further down in the column, provided the fusion plan is not interfered with, will be the name of a Republican as the candidate for congress Democrats are expected to vote for.

But if the Democratic congressional committee, despite the fact that no Democratic congressman can be elected in Allegheny county accommodates William Flinn's organization and insists on nominating Democratic congressmen, then the faithful Democrats will have no cause for revenge on the Citizens party and may do nothing against Pennypacker.

The proceedings, if any are had, will have to be brought in the Dauphin county court, and take the form of an objection to the certification by the secretary of the commonwealth of Pennypacker's nomination by the Citizens party, and to the placing of his name at the head of the Citizens column.

Rely on Judge Stewart's Opinion.

The machine believes that the secretary would be compelled by the court to leave off Pennypacker from the Citizens column. They base their contention on an opinion by Judge Stewart of the Dauphin county court. Judge Stewart, in his opinion, said that a political party could nominate anybody for office, even a man who had already been nominated by another party, but political bodies could not place in their column the name of a man nominated by a political party. The object of the Baker ballot law, while guarding the secrecy of the ballot, the judge said, was to simplify the official ballot as much as possible; if political bodies could nominate a man already nominated, then as many as and more than 50 columns could be placed on the official ballot, making it an unwieldly blanket sheet far from the real purpose of the Baker ballot law.

The machine says that the Citizens party realized the meaning of Judge Stewart's decision, for they placed John Dalzell in nomination before the Republicans had chosen him, realizing that once nominated by a political party, they, as a political body, could not have his name in the Citizens column.

Pennypacker's nomination by the Citizens party is illegal, the machine says, because Pennypacker was already nominated by the Republican party, and the Citizens party, as a political body, could not put his name in another column on the official ballot, and that is the ground the Democrats who may go into court will take. When it is pointed out to the men who argue thus, that Judge Simonton of the Dauphin county court reversed Judge Stewart in the case of Joseph C. Sibley against Lewis A. Emery, a case in which James F. Burke, machine candidate for congress, was counsel for Sibley, the reply was that Simonton's decision was only per curiam; that the decree was given without adducing a reason, and that Judge Stewart's decision, backed up by an elaborate opinion, is the one that counts; that if Judge Simonton is sustained then Dalzell's nomination is illegal, and if Judge Stewart is right, then Judge Pennypacker's name must come off the Citizens column.

SISTERS GO TO MORGANZA.

Two Girls of the East End Incorrigible. Man Under Arrest.

Two sisters, young and pretty, the daughters of J. W. Oram of the East End, were sent to the Morganza reform school yesterday morning by Magistrate McGarey on charges of incorrigibility made by their father. Incidentally, George Green, 26 years old, is under arrest in connection with the trouble of the girls.

Last week Oram reported to the police that his daughters were beyond his control and that they had been enticed from their home by Green. Alice is 16 years old and Edith is 18, and both have been living, off and on, with Green. Detectives George Cole and James W. Eagan placed Green under arrest yesterday and he was committed to jail for court by Magistrate McGarey.

THE ILLUSTRATION SHOWS CAMPERS AT TRAFFORD CITY ON THE NIGHT BEFORE THE LAST GREAT SALE.
TAKE WARNING----GET TICKETS NOW AND BE ON HAND FOR

GRAND FREE EXCURSION SATURDAY, SEPT. 13TH.

TO THE OPENING SALE OF LOTS IN FIRST ADDITION TO TRAFFORD CITY!

Since that famous opening day, when investors walked over each other in their effort to pull the sale tags off the stakes, all the streets of Trafford City have been paved, sidewalks have been put down, city water has been turned on, electric lights are being placed and the Pittsburgh Railways Co.'s traction line, connecting Pittsburgh and intermediate points with Trafford City, has been completed.

Another big trolley line will be built from Trafford City to Greensburg, Blairsville and Apollo. Saltsburg, Indiana county, is to be the center of this extensive system.

WHEN THE ENTIRE GREAT WESTINGHOUSE PLANT IS COMPLETED, IN LESS THAN A YEAR, 10,000 MEN WILL BE EMPLOYED

The first foundry will be in operation early next spring, with 3,500 men employed. When the entire plant is completed there will be employment for 10,000 men. This will occur in less than a year, and from such a tremendous impetus will spring a city of at least 50,000 people.

In fact, all previous Westinghouse town-building records have been distanced! This means a great deal, since former Westinghouse achievements were never paralleled.

To give you some idea of the progress that has been made in a few short weeks we will state that the Westinghouse Machine Co. has let contracts for the building of twenty-five modern brick residences; also for a $50,000 three-story brick hotel, which will contain a magnificent cafe and cosy reading rooms on the first floor.

There will also be a fine banking institution, to be known as the Trafford City National Bank. It will erect, at a cost of $25,000, a handsome three-story brick structure on the corner of Brinton Avenue and Fifth Street. Lots in this neighborhood which sold at the opening sale on June 7th at $850 are reselling today at $1,500. The southwest corner of Cavitt Avenue and Fifth Street, that was sold originally at $2,250, has been resold at $4,100. Advances like this are numerous. They are not the exception.

Chartered Free Excursion Trains will leave Johnstown, Derry, Latrobe, Greensburg, Uniontown, Connellsville, Scottdale, Irwin, Jeannette, Pittsburgh and all intermediate points.

Secure train schedules and your free excursion tickets at once! Don't wait until the limit has been reached in the number of tickets we are permitted to give out! If you live in the City, or where we haven't a local agent, apply for tickets to the Real Estate Trust Co.'s office, 311 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh.

Residents of Wilmerding, Turtle Creek and East Pittsburgh will be able to secure tickets at the East Pittsburgh Improvement Co.'s office, Commonwealth Bank Building, in East Pittsburgh.

POSITIVELY NO LOTS WILL BE SOLD AT THIS NEXT GREAT SALE UNTIL EXCURSION TRAINS FROM THE EAST HAVE ARRIVED.

We have come to this decision, for the reason that during the first great sale so many persons from a distance found the lots snapped up before their trains arrived, notwithstanding that not a lot was sold or offered for sale until the day or date advertised. Knowing the rush there would be for the property, investors naturally came ahead of the excursion trains (in many instances camped on the grounds all night) to be ready to get first pick.

With such a tremendous and unexpected demand for the property at the early morning hours, it was not surprising that the plan was sold off in such sensational time.

We have therefore decided to protect the distantly-located lot buyers at this next sale by holding the property open until all the excursion trains are in, thus guaranteeing to all comers an equal opportunity.

This second plan presents just as great an opportunity for investors as the property that was put on the market in the first memorable sale. It is an extension of the first plan into just as finely situated land, made valuable by the unprecedented march of improvement that has taken place on the lots sold at the opening event, when, in less than three-fourths of a day, $535,000 worth of property was bought up by the first investors, and $70,000 worth resold one to three hours later at large advances.

TO MAKE A FAST SALE OF THE LOTS IN ADDITION TO TRAFFORD CITY

and get building operations in motion all over the great new Westinghouse town, we have set a popular price on every site that will be offered. Choice lots will be sold at $150, $200, $250, $300, $350 and $400.

Some extra choice sites have been priced a little higher. Yet in every instance the price is at least 25 per cent less than the lots can be sold for the day following the sale. You can measure this statement by incidents that happened on June 7 and learn that it is surely a conservative one—that the opportunity to make big money has been trebled owing to the building operations, completion of street improvements, and the extensive but partial construction of the immense works.

The terms on which lots will be sold are:

10 PER CENT DOWN.
BALANCE 3 PER CENT MONTHLY.
NO TAXES OR INTEREST UNTIL DELIVERY OF DEED.
15 PER CENT DISCOUNT FOR CASH.

This discount is allowed when purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase money mortgage for the balance, payable in two equal annual installments with interest.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalk.

The title of the property will be guaranteed to each purchaser by a free policy issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital and Surplus $3,500,000.

FOR FREE TICKETS AND INFORMATION APPLY TO . . . . . REAL ESTATE TRUST COMPANY, Agent, REAL ESTATE TRUST CO.'S BUILDING, 311 Fourth Ave., Pittsburgh.

"A Hot Scotch Major," the offering of the Empire theater, is a sprightly musical comedy by William Gill and Harry Von Tilzer. The book was originally written as a farce comedy by Mr. Gill for the late Roland Reed, the music being afterward introduced. This is the first time the piece has been presented in Pittsburgh, and, if the enthusiasm of the audience last night is a good criterion, a successful engagement during the remainder of the week is assured. As Simeon Meeker, a self-made hero, George H. Summers is a laughable success. Dave Morrissey, as Job Letts, is irresistibly funny, and in conjunction with Tudor Cameron, does a very clever acrobatic specialty. Margaret Burnham as Lady Macbeth and Lionel Hogarth as Dick Carrollton, made a decided hit when they sang "Sweetheart For You." McAllister Meredith, the "Hot Scotch Major," is a peculiar character, with plenty of scope for humor, and it is to be regretted that Mr. Charles Arling has not more intelligent support for his part than is furnished by Miss Annie Lloyd as Titania Quakely. Miss Annie Lloyd as Titania Quakely, who appeared under considerable disadvantage, was accorded considerable applause, but her best effort, the singing of "Lazy Little Mazy Jones," would have been more effective had she had a better supporting chorus. La Belle Cleo furnished some clever dancing. "Together We Stand" is quite a catchy medley and is sure to win friends by the hundreds at Manager McCullough's popular uptown playhouse.

Alvin—"Primrose and Dockstader."

A minstrel entertainment of extraordinary fine quality and a brief olio of at least two star acts is what Primrose & Dockstader are giving the public this season. They came to the Alvin last evening and were greeted by a large audience that found in the earliest moments of the performance everything to give enthusiastic cheer. The black face artists are unusually good, singing the several songs of a well-selected minstrel program with spirit and in voices that were considerably above the average. Mr. Stanley H. Forde, for instance, has a bass voice that is of genuine admirable quality. The same is true of the tenors, Messrs. Bradley and Wood, and the baritone, Mr. Weller. Of the lighter singing Eddie Leonard created a furore of fun in a foolish coon song, which brought him half a dozen encores. Leonard is a new addition and strengthens both the singing and gag-making departments.

Of Nell O'Brien, George Primrose and Lew Dockstader, minstrel audiences need not be told. They sing funnier songs and spring newer jokes this year than ever before. The entertainment is thoroughly refined throughout, excepting possibly, the deductions to be drawn from some of Lew Dockstader's jokes. The olio includes the great hoop rolling act of the Young brothers, one of the most graceful and refreshing novelties on the vaudeville stage. These young men have mastered a difficult and puzzling act that is without successful imitation. George Primrose continues to dance gracefully and this year presents two young proteges and pupils who are marvels of fleet dancers.

The performance closes with the whirlwind acrobatic exhibition of the celebrated Richland family. These young women, seven in number, garbed in fashionable evening gowns, present acrobatic feats that are simply marvelous in so feminine character as the acts and the ease and grace with which they are done. It is altogether an astonishing display. In stage and ensemble effects Primrose & Dockstader, as in every thing else, are leaders in modern minstrelsy.

Without exception the new members of the Grand Stock Company strengthened the good impression made by them last week in the production yesterday of Clyde Fitch's romantic war drama, "Barbara Frietchie," which large audiences at both the afternoon and evening performances enjoyed with fresh zest. The play was used during last season and its comedy and emotionalism are compounded with equal effectiveness in both laughter and tears. Of course, it will not do to analyze Fitch's play according to literary or dramatic standards. The piece was written for Julia Marlowe and by that winsome lady made a thing of appealing beauty and charm. Miss Taylor, in the title role, Miss Eva Taylor, leading lady at the Grand, has an opportunity for the display of really human emotions, a chance denied her last week in the Clarke play. Her Barbara is delightful in its girlishness and in the portrayal of the sorrow that falls to the lot of the Maryland girl the actress reveals a talent for serious work that promises well. Just a slightly overdrawn note is detected in some of the tense scenes, a slight straining of voice and manner that mars the effect as a whole. Miss Taylor's voice and face, however, are used to fine advantage. She can express emotion in the shading of her tones or by an uplift of her eyes with a facility that promises yet greater success in her work. Her Barbara was appealingly human and natural, and the actress never seemed for a moment at a loss for either her lines or the proper conception of the part.

Miss Annie Buckley made her initial appearance with the company yesterday and was given a flattering reception in the part of Sue Royce. The role is hardly strong enough to afford a fair opportunity for a display of the new ingenue's abilities. Certainly she was sufficiently sprightly and graceful. There is a dash of real fun in her comedy, and her study of the role showed thorough grasp of its possibilities. There seems every reason to believe that Miss Buckley will fit into the general excellence of the new stock company admirably. She has a creditable career, having created and played some of the most famous character and comedy roles in the recent history of light and musical comedies.

In all fairness to an actress of sterling worth in certain lines of work, however, it must be said that the "Mammy" Lu of Miss Alice Gale is the noteworthy feature of the revival of Fitch's odd drama. As the old negro "Mammy" Miss Gale gave a character study accurate in the minutest technical aspects and thoroughly human and natural in its appeal to one's sympathies. Mr. Ingersoll's Captain Trumbull was carefully done but somewhat colorless. The Colonel Negley of Wilton Taylor and Mr. Frietchie of James Cooper were singularly good impersonations and gratifyingly free from the disposition so often found to caricature roles of this kind. Mr. Elliot's abilities were somewhat lost in the part of Fred Gelwex, and the same may be said of Miss Phillips in the small role of Sally Negley. Mr. Abbe did the part of Arthur Frietchie well. Mr. Greenleaf was less convincing as "Mad Jack Negley." The play was given admirable stage setting, the beautiful old Frederick-town scene adding not little to the realism of a play that in its attempt to voice southern life and manners at that time is sadly in need of such assistance.

Hardly a seat was vacant at the Bijou last night when the curtain was rung up on the old-time drama "The White Slave." Old in years, for it has been before the public since 1880, and old in the memory of Pittsburgh theatergoers, for it was written by the Pittsburgh dramatist, Bartley Campbell. But new in its effects and made stronger than ever before by a new company, which under the careful supervision of Manager Robert Campbell, the son of the author, gives to the old plantation story a new and thrilling interest.

Full of an intense human interest, the greater because of the powerful love plot that runs through it, "The White Slave" appeals to all the better motives of an intelligent audience. A white girl, free born, who was supposed to have been tainted with the blood of an octoroon is made to suffer the loss of her property, her freedom and her lover who in a fit of gambling frenzy sunk his property and betrayed his trust. Her purchaser and captor, a brutal slave holder of the ante bellum days, failing to make her his mistress sends her to the fields as a common slave only to have her escape through the devotion of her foster brother whose love drives him to her rescue. Captured again, an old legal document in the hands of a pettifogger proves her station, and enables the only woman who knew the secret of her birth to keep her vow to a dying master that she would not betray his shame.

In the person of Thomas Garrick, William Lacey, the slave owner is a thorough type of the old Southern slave trader, unscrupulous and of hot temper. Miss Helen Collier has a strong personality and in her most difficult role shows herself an artist in the portrayal of a woman's pride and suffering. John E. Ince, Jr., as Clay Britton, the Kentucky lover, has a fine appreciation of the humor of "off side" characters whose oddities convulsed the audience Mr. Stitch, the lawyer and Miss Harriet Lee were a mashed success. Frank N. Drew and May Wells play these roles and judging from their welcome last night they will be big drawing cards all the week.

The colored contingent, from which the comedy is extracted, was way above the average. Clem and Martha, the old couple, full of fight and domestic troubles, brought down the house with their love making. The scenic effects, the swing the darky groups with their wired plantation songs into strong relief were well produced and the skillful dancing of the mulatto pair deserved the warm reception it received.

Academy—"The Tiger Lilies."

Scribner & Drew's Tiger Lily Company makes its initial appearance before a Pittsburgh audience at the Academy this week. The company boasts of one of the funniest bunches of comedians on the burlesque circuit and it is a long time since the old Academy walls resounded with such hearty peals of laughter as these funny men provoked last night. A pretty line of chorus girls forms a pleasing background to all the comedy business, and with these two branches of the show of a top notch order the Academy patrons pass the performance up to No. 1 among the attractions so far offered. There is a Weber & Field tinge all through the burlesques which is a pleasing change from the usual line of fun. In the olio the Garrity sisters do a pretty singing and dancing act. The Deongo brothers of Knoxville perform some barrel jumping feats that are decidedly dangerous, and wherein a slip would be fatal. John Black and Lucia Rorper present a travesty act which keeps the audience in a roar and the same can be said of Cooper and Reynolds, who run Miller a close second. "Funny Talkative" Mc. Raye and Wyatt have coon song and dancing down to perfection. The special feature of the show is the three Polos in some great feats of lofty aerial bars.

Vaudeville at the Parks.

With good programs of entertainment Kennywood and Southern parks last night entered upon the closing week of free vaudeville at these pleasure resorts. The warm weather brought out large crowds, over 5,000 people being at Kennywood. The bill there is headed by the Colonial Four, who sing and do clever dancing. Laurence, a magician, and Marko, an equilibrist, gave good exhibitions and were roundly applauded.

At Southern park several thousand people were delighted with the work of the Harris Trio, who sing, play and do a comedy sketch. H. F. Blaney, in a monologue, made several happy hits with stories on well known local personages. McCullough, a magician, mystified the audience with feats of magic. Performances will be given at both parks every evening until Saturday night when there will be a grand finale.

NEW LIGHT AT THE EXPO.

Westinghouse's Latest Invention Flooded Mechanics' Hall Last Night—Sousa Draws Crowds.

Mechanical hall at the Pittsburgh exposition presented a brilliant appearance last night in the golden glare of eight monster Bremer arc lamps which were turned on for the first time as examples of the latest invention of George Westinghouse. The new light brought forth exclamations of surprise.

The first day of "Sousa week" proved eminently satisfactory to the great bandmaster, as well as to the exposition management. All the afternoon crowds of school children found enjoyment in the stirring Sousa music, while in the evening two large music hall audiences gave enthusiastic evidence of their appreciation.

There is intense interest in the appearance tomorrow night of Estelle Liebling, the noted colorature soprano. The management is confident it has secured a superb artist. Sousa's program for this afternoon follows:

THE DONNELLY FOLK AGAINST FUSION PLANS

Having Received a Cold Deal at Erie, They Dread a Repetition.

NO OBJECTIONS EXCEPT IN PHILADELPHIA

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 8.—The regular Democratic organization of Philadelphia, Charles P. Donnelly, chairman, probably will refuse to support the fusion scheme mapped out by Col. James M. Guffey and the Wanamaker faction of the Union party. Fusion on the state ticket was to be effected by the withdrawal of James Nolan, Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs, and the substitution of Lewis Emery.

The scheme to control the next legislature has a much wider scope, the intention being to effect fusion in every close county and to make a hard fight to break into the solid Republican delegation which Insurance Commissioner Durham expects to take to Harrisburg from this city. In Bucks county today elastic nominations were made, the Democratic candidate for senator and one or more of the assembly nominees being straw men who will get off the ticket when Col. Guffey gives the word.

John S. Weller, former senator from Bedford county, now a legal adviser of Senator Penrose, is accused of having an active part in laying the lines preliminary to legislative fusion.

Bitten Once at Erie.

But Chairman Donnelly of the local organization is not objecting to fusion outside of Philadelphia. Here he does not think it a good thing for himself and friends. It cuts down the local representation in state conventions and robs Donnelly and Ryan of the influence so long wielded by them.

At the last Democratic state convention, held at Erie, Chairman Donnelly claimed that Philadelphia was entitled to 105 delegates, the basis of representation being the total Democrat-Independent vote cast for Yerkes and Coray. This was refused by State Chairman Creasey, by direction of Col. Guffey. When Donnelly wished to compromise on 60 delegates, the number allotted a year ago, but Chairman Creasy held to the letter of the rules and Philadelphia only voted 29 men at the Erie convention, the basis of representation being the total vote cast in the Democratic column at the last state election.

Donnelly cites the deal given him at Erie, and declares that as fusion has proved a costly game for Philadelphia he will have no further part in it. Now that he sees no chance of defeating Pennypacker he proposes to care for himself.

Democracy At a Standstill.

From the auxiliary committee of 200, of which Henry Budd is chairman, Gov. Pattison is now receiving his only local encouragement. Donnelly's committee refuses to aid the Budd committee in its purpose to purge the assessors' lists, alleged to be padded, and the whole Democratic campaign so far as Philadelphia is concerned, is at a standstill.

Rudolph Blankenburg, insurgent and official political letter writer for John Wanamaker, today interviewed himself. He declares he will support Pattison, and says he will not contribute cash to the Republican state campaign.

Secretary W. R. Andrews said this evening that Chairman Quay would return from the Adirondacks and be at headquarters either tomorrow or Wednesday.

FIREWORKS IN BELLEVUE.

Postponed Feature Took Place Last Evening and Was Great Success.

The fireworks which were to have been a feature in connection with Bellevue's anniversary celebration last Saturday night, and which had to be postponed on account of rain, were set off last evening. A crowd variously estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000 took advantage of the beauty of the night to visit the Sprague avenue field to witness the last of the great event. Some of the fireworks were damaged by the weather, but all that were injured were replaced, so that the intended magnitude of the display suffered not a whit.

The crowding of the cars by the returning crowds, which was so noticeable on the night of the celebration, was conspicuous by its absence last night, and the ease with which the cars handled the people was an important factor in making the evening the success it proved to be.

MORE INCREASES IN ALLEGHENY SALARIES

Finance Committee Continues to Push Things Up for the Pay-Roll People.

The committee on finance of Allegheny councils last night recommended favorably another lot of ordinances for the increase of salaries of city employes. They were as follows:

First assistant engineer in the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,500; second assistant, $1,200; chief inspector in the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,350; chief clerk of the registry of deeds in the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,800; assistant market house sweepers, $65 per month; organist of Carnegie library, $900 per year; superintendent of Carnegie library, $1,500; engineers in Carnegie library, $1,020 per year; sewer inspector in the bureau of highways and sewers, $2.50 per day; linemen in the bureau of water, $2 per day; assistant janitor in the Carnegie library building, $2.50 per day; watchmen in Riverview park, $2.25 per day; general repairmen in the bureau of public lighting, $2.75 per day; chief clerk in the bureau of water, $1,500 per year; chief engineer at Montrose pumping station, $2,000 per year, and engineers at other pumping stations, from $1,400 to $1,800 per year.

The ordinance fixing the wages of the laborers in Central park at $2 per day was objected to by Director Fulton of the department of public works, for the reason that there was no money in his department to pay increases this year.

The ordinance increasing the salary of the superintendent of parks from $1,800 to $2,400 per year was passed on negatively.

The ordinance fixing the salary of the engineer in the department of water at $125 a month was also negatived, it being shown that no one is now holding that position.

An ordinance submitting to a vote of the electors the question of increasing the city's indebtedness $20,633 for the improvement of McIntyre avenue, was ordered printed.

Convention of Pennsylvania Bankers.

The Eighth Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association will be held in Horticultural hall, Philadelphia, September 24 and 25. The following are among the most essential features of the order of proceedings: September 24, convention called to order at 10:30 a. m.; prayer by the Rev. Floyd N. Tompkins, D. D.; address of welcome by Hon. Samuel H. Ashbridge, mayor of the city of Philadelphia; address of welcome on behalf of the Philadelphia banks by Hon. C. Stuart Patterson; annual address by the president of the association Mr. Grier Hersa, reports of secretaries and committees. On Thursday morning the convention will be addressed by Hon. James H. Eckles, president of Commercial National bank of Chicago. The subject of Mr. Eckles' address will be "The Government's Relation to the Citizen's Business Affairs." This will be followed by an address on "The Financial Situation in Europe," delivered by Hon. H. B. Hepburn, vice president Chase National bank, New York. The headquarters of the counsel of administration will be at the Hotel Walton, where delegates and visitors may register and receive cards for the various entertainments.

GREAT GRIST OF NEW MEASURES IN COMMON BRANCH

City Administration Through Its Mouth-Pieces Proposes Heavy Expenditures.

CLASHES TOOK PLACE OVER TIE VOTE

Safety Department Wants More Engine Houses and Two Score More Police—Park Appropriations Numerous.

More papers providing for important city work were presented at the meeting of common council held last night than at any meeting for years. In addition to the filtration papers, noted elsewhere, many ordinances were introduced for improvements in various wards of the city, showing an evident intention on the part of the city administration to get very busy during its remaining seven months. Meanwhile the public safety department is attempting to mortgage next year's appropriation bill in order to build three more engine houses, and for a site for one of them introduced last night alone aggregate over $100,000.

The meeting was also distinguished by many clashes between the Citizen and machine members. There were 15 of each in attendance, and they promptly voted a tie on every measure that came up. The ring at one time disputed the decision of President C. S. Crawford and appealed from the decision of the chair. Dr. G. W. McNeil of the Twenty-first ward, who was called to the chair, gave the ringsters such a jolt that not another word was heard from them for the remainder of the meeting.

McNeil Arose to the Occasion.

The temporary chairman took the dilema by both horns and decided it his own way. The discomfited ringsters could do nothing but grind their teeth, and for the first time in the councilmanic career of Max G. Leslie that famous machine man was nonplussed and sat down in sheer inability to express his chagrin.

This little incident arose over an attempt to adjourn. Several times during the evening W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward had moved to adjourn until next Friday evening. Each time the vote was 15 to 15, and according to the rules, was lost. Finally Leslie arose and moved that when council did adjourn, it adjourn to meet on the last Monday evening of this month, the date of the regular meeting, and not until then. President Crawford ruled that this motion was out of order, as it trampled on the councilmanic rules as well as on the charter. He further ruled that any such action would require a suspension of the rules. Leslie promptly appealed from the decision of the chair.

President Crawford then attempted to state his position, but he was interrupted by Leslie, who demanded that he leave the chair, and then state his position. Crawford gracefully acquiesced, and called Dr. McNeil to the chair. The temporary chairman asked Leslie to state his appeal. The clerk read the appeal, and the chair then asked: "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?" Crawford and Leslie stated their positions, and the question was then submitted to a vote.

Ringsters Laughed Too Soon.

The ringsters were jubilant before the vote was taken. Previous roll calls showed that the vote would be a tie if the ayes and noes were called. The question was one that had to be sustained by a majority. In case of a tie vote, the chair is not sustained. The ringsters even laughed.

But Dr. McNeil had a card up his sleeve worth playing. He put the question, "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?" There was a howl of "ayes." There was another howl that sounded like "no." Leslie and Armstrong sprang to their feet. "The chair is sustained; take you seat, Mr. Crawford," said Dr. McNeil.

"I call for the ayes and noes," yelled Leslie and Armstrong, but the cry fell on deaf ears. McNeil was already off the rostrum, and Crawford had again taken the chair. It was neatly done, and with a chagrined air Leslie took his seat with an expression that sounded suspiciously like "Well, I'm d——d."

The principal business of the evening came on the call of the wards when many important papers were presented. Among them were a number of warrant resolutions providing for the payment of various sums to the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company, aggregating about $2,000. These bills had been turned down by Controller John B. Larkin, who claimed that under the franchise ordinance the company was to furnish telephones to the city free of charge. The bills were for service furnished the various departments. The largest bill was for $1,152 48. The bill for the department of public works was about $950. The bills are for about six months' service.

Some of the New Measures.

Richard McNally, Thirteenth ward, presented the following: Ordinance authorizing the award of a contract for the construction of a foot bridge from Wilmot street to Schenley park. Fourteenth ward, to cost $45,000; a bridge on Melwood street, Thirteenth ward, $12,000; authorizing the appointment of three competent engineers to examine into the condition of Point bridge at a salary of $50 a day.

Max G. Leslie, Seventeenth ward: Authorizing the employment of 48 additional policemen, comprising 3 captains, 5 lieutenants and 35 patrolmen; directing the finance committee to put $50,000 into the appropriation ordinance next February for an engine house in the Twenty-fourth ward; $35,000 for an engine house in the Twenty-second ward; $35,000 for an engine house in the First ward, and $12,500 to purchase a site for the Twenty-second ward engine house; two ordinances for the sale of the old engine house and old police station in the Eleventh ward, a new police station there being about completed; an ordinance providing that the finance committee place in the appropriation ordinance next February $20,000 to be used in putting in an underground system for the police and fire alarm telephone and telegraph service.

Water Main Must Be Lowered.

Dr. G. W. McNeil presented an ordinance for lowering the 24-inch water main under the Monongahela river—about 600 feet of it—to a grade which will not interfere with the new channel that is being dredged by the United States government. The work is to cost $5,000. This main leads from the city proper to the South Side and is not now in use.

Thomas M. Brown, Twentieth ward, presented the following: An ordinance authorizing the construction of a bridge on the line of Center avenue, in the Twentieth ward, to cost $50,000; an ordinance providing for the refloorng of the South Negley Avenue bridge over the Pennsylvania railroad, to cost $5,000.

Jacob Soffel, Thirty-second ward: An ordinance requiring the union label on all city printing; a petition signed by certain citizens of the Thirty-second ward asking councils to allow Soffel to withdraw the ordinance presented by him some time ago repealing the ordinance which provided for condemnation proceedings for getting possession of Bigham's woods in that ward for a park; an ordinance authorizing the award of contracts for the construction of summer and shelter houses in Grandview park, to cost $9,000.

Richard D. Cavett, Thirty-sixth ward: Ordinance authorizing the construction of a bridge over Saw Mill run to cost $12,000; shelter and summer houses for West End park, to cost $6,000.

C. Wesley Cross, Thirty-eighth ward: An ordinance providing for the construction of a driveway in McKinley park, to cost $4,500; for shelter and summer houses in McKinley park, to cost $3,000.

Wants a Highway in a Tunnel.

John F. Sunnelrock presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to confer with the Pittsburgh and Washington Tunnel Company, the commissioners of Allegheny county, and the city officials, with reference to making the tunnel wide enough to form a public highway, it being the present intention of the tunnel company to make the tunnel wide enough simply for two car tracks. The resolution was adopted.

William Brand, Seventeenth ward, called up the resolution tabled some time ago, which orders the city solicitor to enter suits against the Pittsburgh Junction railroad for alleged violations of the smoke provision in its franchise ordinance. Mr. Stevenson moved that it be postponed until the next meeting, and Mr. Leslie amended by moving that it be postponed indefinitely. The vote on each motion was 15 to 15, and both were lost.

After the chair had been sustained, Mr. Stevenson again moved to adjourn until Friday evening, but the chair declared that a suspension of the rules would be necessary for this, and the ordinary adjournment was taken. President Crawford was asked if he would call a special meeting for Friday evening, and answered that he had not decided, but would do so if public necessity demanded it.

No Meeting of Select Council.

Select council was to have held its first regular meeting of the fall yesterday afternoon, but only 16 members appeared, four less than a quorum. None of the Citizen members were present, with the exception of Robert H. Douglas. After roll call the branch adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

After the meeting President Lamble said he had heard that the Citizen members had been instructed to remain away from the meeting so as to break the quorum.

The explanation was given that two of the Citizen members of the branch are ill, and that the other Citizen members did not want to hold a meeting without their full strength. The machine controls 21 votes in the select branch, enough for a quorum, and for control had they all been in attendance.

President C. S. Crawford of common council was asked last night whether he had heard of any order to Citizen members of select council to remain away and break the quorum, and he said: "I certainly have not heard of any such order. I do not believe it."

STRIKERS COME HERE.

About 5,000 Miners Have Come to the Pittsburgh District from the Anthracite Field.

Since the strike in the anthracite coal regions many hard coal miners have left that section of the state seeking employment in the bituminous mines of Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and in the southern coal fields. Since the strike was declared at least 10,000 hard coal miners have shaken off the dust of the anthracite regions and have found employment in the soft coal fields. It is the general opinion among miners hereabouts that these men will not return to their former employment when the strike is settled, as once they become acquainted with the mining of bituminous coal they will continue at it as they can make better wages than in the anthracite mines.

"Within two months about 5,000 anthracite miners have found employment in the bituminous coal mines of this district," said Uriah Bellingham, vice president of the United Mine Workers, yesterday. "They have been coming to this district since the strike was declared. The highest number that we have had in one day, and found employment for, was 50. Today employment was found for three anthracite miners who came to us on Saturday. Employment could be found for more of these men, as there is room for them if cars could be obtained to haul the coal as soon as it is mined. Our men are willing to share with these miners and help them all they can."

Mr. Bellingham said that some trouble had been experienced in finding boarding houses for the new men, but that they are now all comfortably fixed. In anticipation of a rise in the rivers all the empty barges and coalboats in the upper pools are being loaded as rapidly as the coal is mined. Millions of bushels of coal are loaded and ready to go south.

GOERMAN GOES TO JAIL.

Real Estate Operator in the East End Section Comes to Grief Through Checks.

Charles Goerman, an East End real estate dealer, who has been building extensively in the East End and Wilkinsburg, was held for court by Alderman McMasters yesterday on two charges of false pretense and one of embezzlement. The prosecutors are C. P. Anderson, representing the East End Mantle & Tile Company, and L. D. Straus of Freeman & Straus, brick manufacturers.

According to the evidence, Goerman, who was building about 20 houses in Homewood, secured releases from the prosecutors from the mechanics liens they held against the property, by giving them checks for the amounts of their claims on the First National bank of Wilkinsburg. When the checks were presented for payment they were returned marked "not sufficient funds."

Goerman, it is alleged, had in the meanwhile mortgaged his property and gone to Canada. He returned a few days ago, when he was taken into custody. Goerman denies intending to defraud any of his creditors, but claims his affairs did not warrant his paying them at the time he specified, when he secured the releases. He was held in $1,500 bail for court, and in default was committed to jail.

AN OLD WAR.

Pretty Near Time to Stop.

Wouldn't it make your friend mad to tell her she was in reality a drunkard, but many women are drunkards unconsciously from the use of coffee, which wrecks their nervous systems, and they seem unable to reform.

A lady in Philadelphia, Pa., was very badly affected by coffee, causing her to have nervous prostration, and she finally woke up to the fact that she was in reality a coffee drunkard. Her doctor had told her that she must give up coffee, but she seemed unable to do it.

One day she read an advertisement about Postum Food Coffee and thought she would give it a trial. She says:—"Coffee had such a strong hold on me, that at first I did not make it all Postum, but added a tablespoonful of coffee. After a while I quit putting coffee in at all, and soon found I felt much better. Continued use stopped my headaches and billousness, and I soon noticed that my nervousness had evidently left me for good. Now I would not use anything else, and the smell of coffee makes me sick.

"I am using your Grape-Nuts also, and think it a wonderful food. I lately cured an attack of indigestion by eating nothing but Grape-Nuts and drinking Postum for two weeks and now I can eat solid food and feel no distress." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LOCAL NEWS OF ALL PITTSBURGH

Yesterday's Health Report—Nine cases of typhoid fever, nine of scarlet fever and five of diphtheria were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health.

Father Kaufman Recovers—The Rev. Father Peter Kaufman, rector of the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Allegheny has fully recovered his health and returned to the rectory in Allegheny. He was confined to the Mercy hospital suffering from nervous prostration for about one month.

A New Freight Station—The Pennsylvania railroad is making great improvements in the vicinity of West Homestead. A freight station will be erected where the West Run road strikes the railroad. The new station will be made the center of freight distribution for West Homestead and vicinity and the proposed building will be a large one.

Abused Constable—Andy Guleash, a hotelkeeper of Lower Allegheny, was yesterday held by Alderman Lynch in $300 bail for a hearing on a charge of interfering with an officer. It is alleged that Joseph Hill, a constable from Lynch's office, received rough treatment at the hands of Guleash when he went to the latter's place to arrest a man.

Slashed in a Restaurant—Ruben N. Mitchell of No. 728 Copeland street was seriously injured in a cutting affray in a diamond street eating house yesterday morning. Mitchell is employed in Stakeley's restaurant with Israel Chisal. The men were on bad terms. They quarreled and Chisal is alleged to have slashed Mitchell above the right eye with a knife. Both men are under arrest.

No "Yellow Book" in This Case—Lawrence Cupps, a fireman, reporting to No. 8 engine house, tendered his resignation yesterday to Director Leslie. He has just completed a course in electrical engineering and has accepted a position in that line. Cupps has been identified with the fire department for several years.

Lithuanians Organizing—The Lithuanians of Braddock, Homestead and Rankin have begun forming political organizations and yesterday it was announced in Homestead that the three clubs would aggregate about 700 members, every one of whom will have a vote in the coming election. The clubs will be known as the Lithuanian Citizens clubs, but so far are not affiliated with any particular political party.

Had Too Many Aliases—Harry Trifolt, alias Stile, alias Kennedy, was held in $500 bail yesterday for court trial by Magistrate D. J. McGarey on a charge of larceny. Trifolt, with John Mang and Otto Ault, were arrested on suspicion of having stolen a $100 diamond stud from Peter Shellenberger on the evening of Labor Day. Mang and Ault were able to satisfy the magistrate concerning their action, but Trifolt possessed too many names and was held.

Jackson Held for Wife Murder—The inquest into the death of Sarah Jackson, who was shot and killed by her husband at No. 327 Soho street on Saturday night, was held yesterday by Coroner McGeary. John Jackson was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder, and Alexander Maxwell was held as an accessory. The following persons were held as witnesses: John Johnson, Daniel Bucker, Cecil Seymour, Rosie Johnson and Frederick Brown. All are colored.

Sewickley Schools Open—The Sewickley public schools opened yesterday. Over 400 scholars are enrolled and everything points to a successful year. A great many improvements have been made to the building and yards. In charge of the high school is Homer K. Underwood, who fills the place of assistant principal, vice W. E. Borger, resigned. Other new teachers are Miss Eleanor Martin, Miss Mitchell, Miss McClintock, Miss Mohler, Miss Johnson and Miss Elizabeth Fleming.

A PIANO FOR YOUR CHILDREN

Hamilton's Make Prices Especially Low as an Inducement to Parents.

Every person in need of a piano will do well to improve the opportunity now presented by Hamilton's. This old reliable house is making prices especially low on account of the large number of children beginning the study of music at this season. Shrewd parents are taking advantage of these prices because of the fact that all prices are necessarily somewhat stiffer when business is at its best, as will be the case in a few weeks.

It is a very good thing for music-loving children and their parents that Hamilton's name such low prices as are now prevailing at this well-known music house. Everybody familiar with the music business is aware that only instruments of the best makes are handled by this establishment. Inferior instruments have no more show in this store than bogus money would have in a United States mint.

Always consider two things in the purchase of a piano—quality AND price. Price means nothing, no matter how low, unless the quality is dependable. But when you can get the highest quality at reduced prices, as you can this week at Hamilton's, why, of course it naturally follows that you are going to buy your piano at this store.

Perhaps you do not care for one of the more expensive pianos. Well, you need not pay much at Hamilton's. You can get a very good piano here for $200 and upward, and it is such as you will always be proud of. No matter the sum you wish to expend for an instrument, you can buy most advantageously at Hamilton's. And your old instrument will be accepted as part payment — at its full value.

Write for further details if you cannot call.

Filtration Estimates.

At last the filtration estimate has been submitted to councils and is accompanied by an ordinance providing for another bond issue. This denouement fully justifies the protest carried to the courts, which stopped the proceedings under the old ordinance. The estimate is for a cost exceeding the funds available by $1,219,000.

It is now for the people to say whether they will authorize the additional expense, or whether they will seek some cheaper method. No doubt they will soon make their views known in some way or another for the guidance of councils, and in any event they will have an opportunity to vote upon the matter before it is closed.

As Goes Maine.

It was to have been expected the vote in Maine would be smaller than two years ago. The decrease, however, is principally on the Democratic side. The Republican congressmen and Gov. Hill are re-elected by majorities probably larger than those of two years ago, though by a smaller total vote. This is a good start. It is in New England. The remainder of the country will raise its voice for a continuance of prosperity with greater strength. Pennsylvania in particular cannot afford to come forward with anything less than an old-time, overwhelming majority for the whole Republican ticket.

Bad Cab Service.

In another column a correspondent discusses the Pittsburgh cab question from the point of ample experience. There is no good reason why the cab service of this city should be as expensive as it is, and less shadow of reason why cabs are not in waiting when wanted. Our correspondent names the cab fee in a number of cities, from Washington the great to Washington the less, and in none are they as high as here. The inevitable conclusion is that Pittsburgh rates are exorbitant. Everyone who has tried often to get one at Union depot knows cabs are scarce even at the monstrous charges.

Hostiles to Be Suppressed.

Gen. Chaffee has adopted the proper method to bring about peace in the island of Mindanao. Moral suasion having failed, he has ordered Gen. Sumner to proceed with an adequate force against the hostile Moros and exact from them pledges of good behavior in the future. Doubtless some blood will be spilled as a result of carrying out the order, but there is no other solution of what has been a vexatious problem to the American government.

For a long time the United States forces in Mindanoa have remained inactive, in an effort to win the chiefs by friendship, but friendship has been met by violence and treachery on the part of the natives, our soldiers having been attacked twelve times since the second day of May. Naturally this forbearance of our troops has been regarded by the natives as weakness, and it has become necessary to teach them a salutary lesson. It is not likely, in view of early experiences with the Moros, that there will be determined opposition to the American forces, and it is hoped the contest will be short, sharp and decisive. Whether the struggle is short or long, however, there can be but one ending, for the United States will not tolerate defiance in any part of its lawful possessions. Gen. Chaffee is pursuing the right course in dealing with the hostiles, and their suppression is bound to follow.

Monroe Doctrine Not Infringed.

Explanations of the sinking of the Crete-a-Pierrot by the German gunboat Panther are simply that it was guilty of an act of piracy. This act does not infringe American rights under the Monroe doctrine, which warns off European powers from occupancy of American territory, but does not otherwise abridge the responsibilities of American states to other powers. Temporary seizure of customs houses to enforce payment of claims has been permitted in more than one instance by the United States.

In the case of Haiti, Uncle Sam is the policeman on the adjoining beat. He and not Germany should see the Haitiens do not interfere with foreign commerce. The Machias should have been kept there and should have done just what the Panther did in case of acts of virtual piracy. But the act being against a German vessel, the kaiser's warship had a right to take action.

Wealth and power have their responsibilities in the case of nations as with individuals. It is the moral duty of the United States to police the western hemisphere. If we hold that European powers shall not trespass upon American countries—as we do in the Monroe doctrine—we are subject to the correlative duty of seeing that American republics do not trespass upon the right of European commerce and the peace of the seas. Admiral Killick had demonstrated his inability to maintain a blockade, had been prevented by Commander McCrea from attempting a bombardment, and laid himself liable to punishment by asserting the right of search and seizure upon the high seas.

Good as Far as It Goes.

Business men in the downtown district will be glad to know that the number of fire plugs is to be increased. They do not care particularly about the merits of the controversy between the fire bureau and the water bureau, which has delayed the improvement. They are decidedly of the opinion that more plugs to the block are needed, as well as larger mains. But whether the cash to pay for the work should come from the appropriation for the bureau of water or from the appropriation for the bureau of fire was a point on which business men did not care to take sides. The compromise by which one bureau does the work, while the other bureau pays for it is satisfactory to the citizens who provide the money whichever appropriation it comes from. An increase in the number of fire hydrants in the first fire district will give better protection. So far as it goes this improvement will help, but larger mains also are needed to give the skyscrapers adequate fire fighting facilities and a water supply commensurate to increasing demands.

Creed Revision Up Again.

Although the Presbyterian General assembly by a practically unanimous vote, at its recent session, declared in favor of creed revision, the question is again before the presbyteries. This is made necessary by the laws of the Presbyterian church, the question having been sent back to the presbyteries and synods for final settlement.

There is no cause for surprise in the prediction that revision will be hotly debated, for in spite of the strong vote in the assembly there remains a certain degree of opposition to any alteration in the old standards. There was a decidedly warm discussion of the question before the last meeting of the general assembly, but when the time for a test vote came the opponents of revision were "snowed under." Presbyterianism has felt the impetus of the progressive movement in religious affairs, and therefore it is not probable, however hot the debate may be, that there will be any backward step in the matter of creed revision.

The Filtration Problem.

A doctor comes forward with a hearty indorsement of the filtration views of James J. Brennan. His opinion of sand filtration is not high. He offers another suggestion about cleaning the basins that is of immediate value if only the authorities can be induced to act. Filtration of any kind cannot be installed for a couple of years under most favorable circumstances, but cleaning of the basins can be undertaken at once. It stands to reason the reservoirs become foul from sedimentation, and no doubt some of the water poisoning may be charged to that source.

Contracts Must Be Kept.

The British house of lords has just rendered a striking decision supporting the doctrine that contracts must be kept. In the case in question the lords were sitting as the court of last resort. An insurance company of London had written a policy protecting a quantity of gold amalgam, belonging to a South African corporation working mines in the Transvaal, from all sorts of risks, including confiscation. The South African republic seized a portion of this property nine days before war was declared. Payment for the loss was refused by the insurance company and the defense set up was that since the loss was caused by the Transvaal government at a time when war was expected, the contract was illegal, because it was in effect an agreement to indemnify a subject of the Transvaal, a country proposing to make war against England—a contract which was quite contrary to public policy.

The house of lords refused to take the view that the case was altered by the fact that British money would go to a Transvaal corporation if the contract was carried out. It merely took cognizance of the circumstances that the insurers had accepted a premium to guarantee the safety of certain property; that there are only two states, one of peace and one of war; that the seizure was made in time of peace, and that the insurers must pay up.

The decision is one of strict justice. The insurance companies of London assumed heavy war risks, charging high premium rates, hoping there would be no war and they would reap large profits. They wrote risks for Transvaal corporations, undisturbed by fears that their contracts were against public policy. The house of lords has very properly refused to assist them in evading the responsibilities they assumed.

An Instructive Case.

Murder was committed again in the anthracite region yesterday, and possibly the character of the outrage may come home to the guilty, since they have learned their victims were fellow strikers instead of non-union men. The crime in this instance is precisely the same as if the two unfortunate pickets had really been non-union workmen. The affair demonstrates conclusively why troops are on the ground to preserve the peace, and if, as they threaten, the friends of the men who were shot try to take summary vengeance upon the strikers who did the shooting, the latter will find the soldiers as ready to protect them as they are to protect the non-union workmen from illegal assault.

Every effort should be made to single out the men who did the shooting and to make them suffer the penalty. It was pure accident that strikers instead of non-union men were victims of the mob, but that does not alter the legal aspect of the case. It is a pity the strikers and their sympathizers are not able to fully understand the matter in this way, and that they are not amenable to the wise counsel of President Mitchell to abstain wholly from violent methods. But while they do not there is one course open—to compel them to recognize and respect the law; to enforce peace at the point of the bayonet or muzzle of the rifle.

Another Surplus Is Coming.

Customs receipts for August demonstrated the wisdom of congress in making a clean sweep of the war taxes at its last session. There were timid ones among the members who thought the proposition to remove the taxes in their entirety was too radical. They thought it certain a deficit would be the result, and they were for reducing the revenue gradually. The pessimists were outvoted and the optimists prevailed. The war taxes went by the board and the country has had only the normal revenues to depend upon since June 30. In July there was a deficit, but no one was disturbed by that, for July is always a month of small receipts and heavy disbursements. August usually displays the same financial characteristics, but this year August made a change. The government's customs receipts were very large. They amounted to almost $27,000,000. This is an increase of about $6,000,000, and an indication that prosperity has begun to pile up another surplus.

Work of the Medical Corps.

There is still fighting in the Philippine islands, but the enemy now to be conquered is disease. The insurgents have all ceased insurging and the unpleasantness that has made itself manifest in the Moro country is not likely to result in serious conflicts; but the gentler pestilence have not yet surrendered. The war department takes a proper view of the gravity of the case, for while the army in the archipelago, which has been reduced without interruption and with great regularity for years, is to be brought down to a force of something like 18,000 men, a medical corps out of all proportion to this military strength will be maintained. Unrelenting war is being prosecuted against cholera, and this warfare will not cease until the archipelago has been made as free from the pestilence as Cuba has been made free from yellow fever. By fighting the cholera and by instructing the natives in sanitary science, the medical corps of the army will follow up the successes of their fighting colleagues, and thus aid in giving the natives a healthful country as well as one of political freedom, thus proving afresh that the United States seeks only the welfare of the Filipinos.

Self-Adjusting Tariff.

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania takes the view of tariff legislation which might be expected from a representative of that state. "The way to solve the tariff question," he says, "is to eliminate it fom politics," and he would do this by appointing a board to "take it, whose members were "empowered to raise the schedules when they permit an invasion of certain markets by foreign countries, and reduce it when manufacturers are able to run a monopoly. Make the tariff capable of immediate adjustments. This is the only way to handle it." He is not the first man to travel around that circle, but what he says is none the less sound for all that.

MANY ARE SKIMPED IN THEIR SCHOOLS

Sixty Thousand Little New Yorkers Will Have to Put Up With Half Time.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

School is open. There are some conditions in New York that make that annual occasion somewhat different here from what they are in other cities. The principal point of difference is that there is not house room in New York for all the children that are entitled to accommodation, and whose education is the business of the Empire state. At a rough estimate, half a million children applied for admission at the various schools this morning. Under normal conditions there are seats for 470,000. William H. Maxwell, city superintendent of schools, promises that he will find room for all children over 6 years of age, but the chances are that an odd 60,000 will have to make the best of half-day instruction, at least for a time. This has been the rule for several years. In fact, more than 30,000 pupils have had to worry along with only half time in previous years. It was hoped that there would be new school buildings this year in sufficient numbers, but economy, or parsimony, of the Van Wyck administration prevented it, and the new buildings will not get up this year, at all events. Over in Brooklyn the arrangements are better. There is enough room for all the youngsters that have applied, and they went to school today with a perfectly clean bill of health. It must not be inferred that there is any danger from contagious diseases in the schools of Manhattan and the other boroughs of Greater New York, but in Brooklyn, essentially a children's home, the board of health has paid more than usual attention to this matter. There are 100,000 school children in Brooklyn, and each one has been examined by a physician, to make sure that he or she is entirely free from any ailment that might endanger the health of others. On the whole, the opening day of school in Greater New York has been satisfactory, although it has entailed an immense amount of work upon those having the arrangements in charge. It takes labor to settle half a million school children for an eight-months' term.

Canadian Contract for Pittsburgh.

A. P. Neal of Neal Bros., proprietors of the Anchor rolling mill, Southside, Pittsburgh, is in New York. He is here to close a deal with the Sydney (Nova Scotia) steel works for the delivery of several thousand tons of steel billets. Mr. Neal says the steel industry is booming and that he looks for the best season he has seen for years.

Tim Bigger Than Teddy.

One of the big holidays of the year is the Tim D. Sullivan outing. It is the day when the East Side breaks loose, and everyone favored with an invitation sails away with "Big Tim" and his lieutenants for a day of unrestrained jollity. Officially, it is known as the outing of the Timothy D. Sullivan Tammany Hall association, but anyone that lives within a stone's throw of the Bowery is welcome. They went away this morning, several thousand strong, with every Tammany brave wearing a white cap and armed with a red-white-and-blue cane, to a steamer lying at a pier in the East river, on which they departed for a grove. There were at least 5,000 persons in the excursions, and what sounded like a dozen bands, although, as a fact, there were only two, playing different airs. When the party got back to New York, with red fire burning along the route of the procession and much cheering, the whole of the Bowery was ablaze with enthusiasm, and "Big Tim" was a greater man than President Roosevelt.

Daring Advertising Scheme.

Brooklyn merchants are not so slow in advertising schemes, when you come to think of it. In Fulton street, which, as is generally known, is the retail shopping district of the borough, there is a certain large trunk and leather goods firm. Late last night a burglar alarm which could be heard a block away rang out on the still air. The usual crowd gathered and a cordon of policemen was formed around the building. Two of them climbed a fence to cut off the suspected burglars' escape by the rear of the store. While 500 persons awaited developments on the sidewalk, the proprietor emerged from the front door. Everybody stood silent and expectant. "Ladies and Gentlemen," he said, "while the policemen are searching the store for burglars, I want to announce that tomorrow we shall start a phenomenal sale in trunks, bags and valises," and more to the same effect. The question is, did he, or did he not, touch off that burglar alarm himself?

Too Zealous to Be Popular.

Police Capt. Miles O'Reilly, who was sent to take charge of the Oak street station a few weeks ago, finds it a hard thing to quell lawbreakers and keep the good will of his men. He caught three policemen gambling in a Cherry street saloon not long ago and one of them was "broke" in consequence. Now the captain's men say he is hounding them continually, instead of trying to prevent infractions of the law, and they further insist that there are many gambling houses and poolrooms in the precinct. One of them declares that an elaborately appointed poolroom is in full swing on the top floor of a Park row skyscraper. As there is only one building in Park row that can be called a skyscraper it should be easy to catch the offenders or prove the falsity of the charges. Capt. O'Reilly declares that his precinct is absolutely clean, so far as gambling is concerned. His experience indicates that there is room for regeneration in the New York police department when a captain who is determined to do his duty has to maintain a running fight with his subordinates to prevent their undoing his work.

One Newsgirl Fewer.

Sadness hangs over the corner of Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue. One of the soubrette newsgirls that have decorated the four corners there for several years has acquired a husband and departed from New York to join him in South Dakota. Her name was Emma Horn before her marriage. We still have with us Winnie Horn, Sadie Horn, Jennie Horn and Eva Horn. Each one wears a picture hat, curls, a dashingly cut summer gown with many flounces, laces and furbelows, and a sash of bright ribbon encircling her maiden waist. When the four sisters get together at the foot of the "L" stairway they look like a fanty fair. All are young, cute and pretty. Winnie Horn once went on the stage in a musical comedy on Broadway, but she was not so successful as the actress that gave an imitation of her, who was, if I remember, Theresa Vaughan. All the Horn girls are said to have a hankering for the drama as exemplified by the Rogers brothers and "Florodora."

Jacob A. Cantor's Dilemma.

A man who is understood to be on the inside of politics here says in an evening paper today that ex-Senator David B. Hill, the advance guard of Democratic harmony, and Jacob A. Cantor, president of the borough of Manhattan, are likely to clash at the Democratic state convention on the subject of canals. Mr. Hill already has refused the request of the Canal Boatmen's association to have a strong plank inserted in the Democratic platform pledging the party to the plan for enlarging the canal system so as to accommodate 1,000-ton barges, and the canal men have induced Mr. Cantor to prepare such a plank and to insist on its adoption. Mr. Cantor's membership in the convention is contingent upon the victory of his organization, the Greater New York Democracy, winning in one of the districts in New York county or else upon the good nature of some of his friends in Tammany hall. If he is not made a delegate, however, he will take his plank to Saratoga and try to have it included in the platform through another source.

Reminder of Cruel Times.

A grisly reminder of the times when they used to treat insane persons as dangerous animals has come to light on Staten island. One of the older buildings of the Richmond county poor farms is about to be renovated and remodeled and many of its long-hidden secrets have been revealed to the light of day. Clanking chains, iron fetters and anklets and steel rings fastened to stone walls were found. These things were all used on insane inmates of the place and many a tragedy took place in the cells that have now been thrown open. Below the ground floor in a sort of basement is perhaps the most picturesque dungeon in Greater New York. It is clean and light now, with lime-whitened walls and redolent only of disinfectants; but one needs little imagination to picture what it must have been in the days when a human being, mentally irresponsible, was commonly treated as men handle a hunger-maddened tiger or a murderous desperado.

Rehearsals Under Difficulties.

Here is the way it is in upper Broadway just now, which suggests that rehearsals are not altogether pleasureable: On the roof of the Victoria theater the booming Creatore holds daily rehearsals of his biff-bang band. Every few minutes there is a subway explosion under the street adjoining the theater. Workmen are busy on the new entrance of the Belasco theater to the rear of the Victoria and are doing an immense amount of iron pounding and nail driving, while to cap it all carpenters are busy in the interior of the Victoria itself with the object of bringing the interior into harmony with the artistic ideas of the only Oscar Hammerstein. And yet there are actors who say that the noise helps them to remember their lines. If this is true, let the carpenters continue to pound away in the interest of the much-worried stage manager.

Faced Death Rather Than School.

An East Side boy was so annoyed over the thought of having to go to school that he dived out of an upper window at his home this morning and will die. He was a little too hasty. If he had waited an hour or two he might have found that there was no room for him in school, anyhow.

City Money for the Afflicted.

This is the day on which the blind poor of New York receive $50 apiece from the city. The total amount paid out was $68,900, there being 678 indigent blind in Greater New York. Forty of them were too feeble to go to the Bellevue hospital pier at East Twenty-sixth street for the money, and it was taken to them at their homes. These blind people are none of them inmates of institutions, and the city takes care of them in this way. One of the saddest cases known to the authorities is that of a 15-year-old girl named Valerie Maudel, who is blind, deaf, dumb and paralyzed.

Telephone Voice Wins a Husband.

Another case of a wedding where the bride won her husband by her sweet voice over the telephone. It is proper to say "another," because there have been half a dozen of such weddings in Greater New York or the vicinity since the beginning of the year. The girl was employed as telephone operator in a Brooklyn business house, and her husband heard her voice every day. It is described as being of peculiar gentleness. He fell in love with it, found the owner as charming as the voice, and married her today.

Only One New Play.

There were four theatrical openings along Broadway tonight, but only one new play. That was "Captain Molly," the drama by George C. Hazelton, who wrote "Mistress Nell" for Henrietta Crosman. It was given at the Manhattan theater before a large audience. Other theaters to throw open their doors for the first time this season were the Criterion, where W. H. Crane revived his last season's success, "David Harum," for two weeks, and the Bijou, where "Hearts Aflame," the play which made a hit at the end of last season, was produced. At the Academy of Music the Bostonians gave their old favorite, "Robin Hood," more elaborately than ever.

Pittsburgh Couple's Experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loughrey of Pittsburgh are here on a pleasure trip. They are at a Broadway hotel, and an amusing incident of their arrival was that the clerk, insisted on assigning them to the bridal chamber, notwithstanding their positive assertion that they have been married five months.

Disgusted Pittsburgh Fans.

"The Pittsburghs got done up." Thus did a Pittsburgher on Broadway tonight sententiously describe the baseball tragedy at the Polo grounds. The New Yorks won both games, thus breaking their long losing streak. There was a large number of Pittsburghers at the games, who were an astonished as well as disgusted crowd as they filed out of the gates.

Gleam of Hope for Pool Rooms.

Men that bet on horse races are wondering whether pool rooms will be legally wide open in New York hereafter. Judge Foster, in court of general sessions, today handed down an opinion which may permit pool rooms to open temporarily, at least. The opinion was given in the cases of two brothers named Stedeker, whose place, the Parole club, was raided in 1901. The defendants' attorney demurred that the penalties provided for the crime specified in the indictment conflicted. Judge Foster, desiring to get a ruling from a higher court, granted the demurrer and permits the district attorney to appeal and thus get a decision from the supreme court, which shall settle the intricate question as to the legality of pool rooms once and for all. In the face of the many recent raids on gambling houses, the action of Judge Foster comes as a panacea, indeed. Whether anyone will have the audacity to open a pool room publicly pending a decision from the supreme court, remains to be seen. If they do, the police department may find itself in a quandary.

DHULEEP SINGH DEEP IN TROUBLE

Extravagances Have Brought Him to Bankruptcy and and Disgrace.

By THE MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

As Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh has two American sisters-in-law, the one a Miss Bonynge of New York and San Francisco married to Viscount Deerhurst, and the other Miss Whitehouse of New York, married to the Hon. Charles Coventry, of Jameson raid celebrity, and as moreover the prince has not only spent some time in this country, but has actually written a rather unfriendly book about the United States, the news of his being gazetted as a bankrupt in London, which entails the loss of his commission in the English army, and of the membership of his London clubs, is of some interest on this side of the Atlantic.

His bankruptcy may possibly lead once more to complications in connection with the great kohinoor diamond, which figured on the crown of Queen Alexandra at the coronation, and which now forms the most valuable and important of all the crown jewels of Great Britain. It formerly belonged to the reigning Indian house of the Punjaub, of which the prince is now the chief. At the time when England annexed the Punjaub in 1849—the late maharajah, father of Prince Victor, was then about 11 years old—the kohinoor was turned over to Queen Victoria as her perquisite. All his estates were confiscated by the British government, and a certain sum of money was set aside for the maintenance of the maharajah, of the members of his family and of his principal servants.

Kohinoor Diamond in Dispute.

The ex-maharajah spent the major part of his life in England, ran heavily into debt, and when after being repeatedly extricated therefrom by the government, the latter refused to do anything more for him, he not only disavowed his allegiance to England, but went on to raise the question about the legality of the confiscation of the kohinoor, and of the estates of the reigning house of Punjaub, taking the ground that as a child he was not responsible for the acts of those of his guardians who had conducted the affairs of his kingdom in such a manner as to bring about British intervention and annexation.

The matter was never thoroughly settled, and it is quite possible some of the angry creditors of Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh, the eldest son of the late maharajah, may take legal steps to obtain from the courts a definite ruling as to whether the kohinoor is in reality the property of King Edward or of Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh.

Prince Victor deserves but little sympathy in his misfortunes. For in spite of the example before his eyes of his father's insane extravagance, and its unhappy results, he has persistently declined to keep within the handsome allowance made to him by the British government, which amounts to $60,000 or more, constituting the revenue of a quantity of Indian government bonds invested in his behalf and that of his brother Frederick and his two sisters, one of whom was in this country a short time ago studying medicine at Chicago.

Prince of Doubtful Lineage.

Moreover, his marriage with Lady Ann Coventry served to estrange many people from him. Marriages of English women to orientals and Africans are not regarded with any more favor in England than in this country. For a white woman in India, or anywhere else in Asia to become the wife of a native, no matter how exalted his rank, is sufficient to cause her to be regarded with contempt by all other white people and subjected to the most drastic kind of ostracism. The marriage therefore of Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh to the daughter of Lord and Lady Coventry not only met with many objections, but created a very unpleasant impression to the detriment alike of the prince and of his bride.

Until that time the prince had enjoyed a certain amount of popularity. But his marriage led to questions being raised about his lineage, and it was ascertained on the authority of the principal experts in Indian lore that his father, instead of being actually the son of the famous Punjaub monarch, Runjeett Singh, was in reality merely an adopted child, and the offspring of a harem woman and a stable boy, whose recognition as Runjeet's heir on the part of the English had taken place for the purpose of furthering the latter's political views.

Then, too, attention was called to the fact that Prince Victor's mother, Miss Bemba Mullar, was the daughter of an Anglo-German missionary at Cairo, and a Copt girl, whom he had in his house as a domestic servant before making her his wife.

Pretensions Not Recognized.

The fact remains that the pretensions of the late Maharajah Druleep Singh, and Prince Victor, his son, to Punjaub royalty, and to be of the same stock as the celebrated monarch, Runjeet Singh, are ridiculed by the leading Indian rulers and princes of the present day. Nor would any of those who attended King Edward's coronation have dreamt of recognizing Prince Victor as one of themselves.

Prince Victor was brought up as a Christian, and was christened at Windsor castle, Queen Victoria officiating as his godmother and holding him at the font. He was educated at Eton, at Cambridge and at Sandhurst, at all of which places he used to go by the nickname of "Tulip," a play, of course, on his name of "Dhuleep." He is short and stout of build, retaining no trace of the oriental about him either in dress or manner, except the olive complexion of the Indian races. He is a captain of the First dragoon guards and was and-de-camp to Gen. Ross when the latter commanded the British troops in Canada. It is difficult to see what will be the future of the prince, for the British government cannot go on forever paying the debts of the Dhuleep Singh family, and Lord Coventry, the father of the princess is a poor man.

Lord Desart, whose daughter, Lady Sybill, is married to W. Bayard Cutting of New York, is being violently assailed by the press in England for refraining in his capacity of director general of public prosecutions, from instituting criminal proceedings against those members of the aristocracy, who in their associations with the Whitaker-Wright Companies scandals have been shown in the bankruptcy and liquidation proceedings in court to have violated all sorts of laws.

Lord Desart in excusing his failure to take any action declares he is following the instructions of the attorney general, and this has led to a great outcry of which we are likely to hear a good deal more when parliament meets.

Until now it has always been supposed the director of public prosecution, namely Lord Desart, was as a judicial personage quite as independent of party and factional politics as the judges of the high court and that he took action on his own initiative, whenever violations of the law were brought to light. That is to say, if in a bankruptcy case the bankrupt was shown to have been guilty of fraud it was his duty to institute criminal proceedings against him and likewise against any witness who had been guilty of perjury in say a divorce suit.

If, however, Lord Desart only takes action when directed by the attorney general the nature of his office is altogether changed. The attorney generalship is a political office, the holder of which changes with each new administration, and who, unlike judges and permanent judicial officials, is bound to consider the political views and necessities of his party, rather than the strict requirements of justice.

Queer Paper.

From the Philadelphia Record.

"Money talks," said the caller.

"Well, the kind I get must talk in a whisper," chortled Senator Stocks.

"Why?"

"Because it is hush-money."

PERSONALS.

Commander H. C. Geoding of the United States navy is visiting at his father's home in Sidney street, accompanied by two of his children. His present station is at Annapolis, where for a year he has been an instructor at the naval academy, which assignment will continue for two more years. He was promoted from a lieutenant commander during the past year, on his return from the Asiatic station. He was formerly a pupil in the South Pittsburgh school.

"There is a large demand for heavy draught horses," remarked J. L. Kunkle, a live stock raiser of Greensburg, last night, "and I am on my way to the Toronto exposition, Canada, to bid on some Perchons and Clydesdale stallions. These horses are very scarce and there is a general demand for them all over the country."

Two special cars containing delegates to the 18th annual convention of the United Typothetae of America came into Pittsburgh last evening. One of the cars came from St. Louis and was attached to train No. 14, while the other special car brought in the delegation from New Jersey, and was attached to train No. 15 of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Capt. W. R. Gelfuss of the Washington infantry went to Philadelphia and New York last night on a business trip. He expects to be gone a week.

The Hon. Henry Clay Loudenslager, member of congress from the First district of New Jersey, passed through the city last night to the west.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Charles Gschwend.

Charles Gschwend, 65 years old, a well-known organist, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 49 Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg. He was born in Baden, Germany, and came to the United States when a child with his parents. After reaching manhood Mr. Gschwend removed from Butler to Shaler township, where he lived for 28 years. During his residence in the township he served three terms as justice of the peace. He later moved to Sharpsburg and for 42 years was toll collector on the Butler plank road, retiring from this position two years ago. At various times he was director of the choirs of the St. Joseph's church, Sharpsburg, and of St. Ann's and St. Anthony's churches, Millvale. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, and of branches Nos. 43, 54 and 178, Catholic Mutual Beneficial association. He is survived by his widow and one son, James B. Gschwend.

James W. Benney.

James W. Benney, for the past 27 years librarian of the Allegheny public school library, died last night at the residence of his son, James E. Benney, Stevenson and Forrest avenues, Bellevue, in the fifty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Benney was one of the most widely known officials in Allegheny by reason of his long connection with the Allegheny school library. He had been in failing health for the past nine weeks by reason of a complication of diseases. In his younger days Mr. Benney followed the trade of a hatter, his father having been one of the owners of the first hat store in Allegheny. Mr. Benney is survived by the son at whose home he died and by two daughters, Mrs. George Pendleberry of Allegheny and Agnes, who lived with him.

Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mrs. J. C. Moore of Slippery Rock died yesterday morning from paralysis, aged 68 years. She was prominently associated with the women's temperance movements in Butler county, and the women's missionary societies of Butler Presbyterian presbytery. Miss Henrietta Moore, a missionary in the Punjab district, India, is her daughter. She is survived by six children: C. L., of Butler; Miss Margaret A., teacher in the Butler schools; Mrs. Myra Grossman of West Liberty and Sarah, at home. The Rev. Dr. Samuel Moore of New Castle is a stepson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of Connellsville, is a sister.

Mrs. Sylvia E. Marshall.

Mrs. Sylvia Edna Marshall, wife of Charles A. Marshall, died at her home at Imperial, Pa., at 5:45 yesterday morning after an illness of 10 days. Mrs. Marshall was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson of North Star, Pa. She is survived by her husband and her mother, Mrs. Sarah Robinson, and three sisters, Mrs. Anna Reed of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. P. Byers of Enlow and Miss Madge Robinson of North Star, Pa.

Henry Permar.

Henry Permar, a traveling salesman known in Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania, died at Steubenville, O., yesterday. He was captain of the old volunteer fire department for years. For 38 years he was leader of the First Methodist Episcopal church choir and for 28 years the Sunday school superintendent.

Mrs. Sophia Shiek.

Mrs. Sophia Shiek, aged 52, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at her home in Jefferson street, Latrobe. Mrs. Shiek had been a resident of Latrobe from childhood. She is survived by eight children: William and Mrs. John Megary of Pittsburgh, the others living near Latrobe.

Thomas McCartney.

Thomas McCartney, aged 46, died yesterday morning at his home in Sycamore street, East Pittsburgh. The deceased was employed in the shops of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and was well known. He is survived by his widow and five children.

Miss Julia Graham.

Miss Julia Graham, 25 years old, daughter of Robert Graham, a pioneer settler of Ligonier valley, is dead at the home of her sister, Susan Graham, at New

WEDDING IN JAIL SETTLED BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

First Case of the Kind in the History of the County Prison.

DUDLEY FRYE MARRIED FIANCEE

Groom Had Been Arrested on a Capias Issued in Suit for $5,000, but Decided to Take a Bride and Wedding Trip.

Attorneys A. L. Cramer and W. A. Stanton, with their respective clients, settled a dispute that released Dudley Frye from jail and made Miss Dora Brown a happy woman, although she relinquished a prospective verdict of $5,000 for breach of promise to marry, preferring to become the bride of the man she had a capias issued for. A wedding in the jail, witnessed by the lawyers, friends of the contracting parties and the jail warden and his assistants settled the case brought in common pleas court. The couple will go to housekeeping in the Twelfth ward, and both seemed glad their troubles are over.

Miss Dora Brown, whose home is at Ruckersville, W. Va., came to Pittsburgh nearly four weeks ago after searching the entire state of West Virginia, and found Dudley Frye, who had promised to make her his wife, while on a visit to his parents' home at Ruckersville. She insisted on him keeping his alleged promise, and while, he said he was willing and anxious to marry her, he thought they had better wait a while before launching on such a momentous venture.

Miss Brown did not think so and consulted Attorney A. L. Cramer. Mr. Frye was employed as an ironworker at the Crucible Steel Company's plant, and was making big wages. The attorney advised his client that if he refused to keep his promise she had better enter suit. This she did and had a capias issued for Frye. He was arrested by a deputy sheriff and placed in jail, being practically a stranger in this city and unable to get bail. He insisted he did not intend to break his engagement, but wanted Miss Brown to wait a while. He stayed in jail three weeks and yesterday decided that he loved the fair plaintiff enough not to insist on any further delay, as his case might not come up for four or five months and he saw no prospect of getting bail. He sent for his attorney, W. A. Stanton, who consulted with Attorney Cramer. Miss Brown said she wanted Frye, and not his money, and agreed to withdraw the suit if he kept his promise. Accompanied by a deputy sheriff, Frye visited the marriage license office, where Attorneys Cramer and Stanton arranged for a license.

The wedding took place at high noon and the groom was as happy as the bride and kissed her repeatedly after the ceremony. The Rev. A. W. Brown of the prothonotary's office officiated. Frye said he loved her more than ever, and they left the jail office arm in arm after settling with their attorneys. This is the first breach of promise suit that resulted in a marriage in the jail in this county, although a number of weddings have taken place in that institution.

After the wedding the attorneys had the case marked "settled and discontinued" on the dockets in the prothonotary's office. Frye said he and his bride would take a wedding trip in the late fall and would be at home to their friends after their return.

THE MIXED FOURSOME RESULTS AT EDGEWORTH

Matches Played in Roberts Cup Tournament at Logans Ferry. Woodruff Won Nimick Cup.

The second round in the match play mixed foursome was decided yesterday on the Edgewood course at Sewickley, with the following results:

Miss Bertha Taylor and Chester H. McVay defeated Miss Martha Porter and David Hays by 1 up.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Shannon defeated F. S. Liggett and Miss Rebekah Miller by 4 up and 3 to play.

J. W. Dix and Miss Mary Cree Porter defeated Christy Payne and Mrs. F. E. Rutiaw 6 up and 5 to play.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Shannon play Mr. Dix and Miss Porter, the winners meeting Miss Taylor and Mr. McVay on Wednesday.

A number of the matches in the play for the cup offered by E. P. Roberts & Sons were decided yesterday on the Logans Ferry course of the Westmoreland Country club. The first round is to be finished on or before Wednesday, and the second round a week later. The results so far, and matches yet to be played with the handicaps alloted, are as follows:

F. M. Steiner, handicap, 8, S. C. Darling (0), by 2 up; W. N. Parkin (15) plays William McConway, Jr. (18); E. D. Pendleton (12) plays W. A. Nicholson (15); W. W. Woodruff (4) won C. A. McClure (14), by default; W. Stevenson beat F. S. Viele 6 up and 4 to play each handicap 14; C. McV. McCance (1) beat R. C. Bakewell (14) up; Hartley Howard, jr. (14), plays W. T. Drill (14); M. A. Pressley (12), plays W. Williams (18).

For the play off of the tie for the Nimick cup, played on August 23, W. W. Woodruff was the winner. The scores for both days:

	Gross.	Hdcp.	Net.	Sep. 8.	Aug. 23.
W. W. Woodruff	98	14	70	70
F. S. Viele	101	14	87	79

THREE NATIONAL MEETINGS BEGIN

DELEGATES HELD RECEPTION AT THE SCHENLEY.

United Typothetae, Photo-Engravers and Electrotypers in Convention.

Music, dancing and luncheon were the features of a reception at the Hotel Schenley last evening, at which the visiting delegates and their ladies, called to Pittsburgh by three national conventions of printing trades, sought to become acquainted. All the evening was spent in this way by nearly 400 persons who attended the reception.

These conventions are the United Typothetae of America, the National Electrotypers' Association of America and the National Association of Photo-Engravers. All will be in session the greater part of this week, the Electrotypers and Photo-Engravers at the Henry, and the Typothetae at the Schenley.

Early yesterday morning the officers and lay members of these associations began to arrive and every incoming train brought its contingent. The meetings of the executive committees of the three associations were held yesterday to size up the work of the coming conventions, and see that all is in good shape. This morning at 9:30 the Typothetae and the Photo-Engravers will start their work. These last two associations, while separate in form, always hold their conventions at the same time and places by reason of the close relations which exist between the two branches of the printing trade. Many of the members of one association belong also to the other.

There will be about 200 delegates at the Typothetae's convention, while between 50 and 75 will attend that of the Photo-Engravers and Electrotypers. The Typothetae have business sessions this forenoon, afternoon and evening as well as tomorrow morning and a concert for the ladies this evening. Tomorrow afternoon this monotony will be broken by a carriage ride from the Schenley through the parks and over the boulevards. Thursday there will be business sessions in the forenoon and afternoon, with a banquet for the delegates and ladies in the evening at the Schenley. Friday there will be an excursion on the steamer Francis J. Torrance.

The officers of the Typothetae are the following: President, H. P. Pears, Pittsburgh; secretary, Edwin Freegard, St. Louis; treasurer, Thomas E. Donnelley, Chicago; vice presidents, J. Stearns Cushing, F. C. Kenyon, John Taylor, Richard R. Ridge, Edward W. Foster and Atwell Fleming; executive committee, Everett Waddey, George H. Ellis, C. O. Bassett, Amos Pettibone, John B. Kurtz, Isaac H. Blanchard and W. B. Carpenter.

The program of the Photo-Engravers includes both business and social features. This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the first business session will be held, when reports will be submitted and new members elected. President W. J. Barr will deliver the address of welcome. This evening the party will attend either the Exposition or a concert at the Schenley. Another business meeting will be held tomorrow evening with papers by Messrs. G. H. Benedict, C. J. Wolfram and H. C. Sellers. During the morning there will be carriage rides through the parks and along the boulevards. Wednesday evening there will be a joint banquet with the Engravers at the Henry. On Thursday a carriage ride will be taken to Duquesne garden. On Friday the whole party of Typothetae, Electrotypers and Photo-Engravers will unite in the Torrance excursion.

The meetings of the Electrotypers will be held during the forenoons at the Henry. Their business will consist of reports, papers and addresses, and the social features will be the same as those of the Photo-Engravers.

The officers of the National Association of Photo-Engravers are: President, John C. Bragdon, Pittsburgh; first vice president, B. W. Wilson, Jr., New York; second vice president, Levi F. Eaton, Detroit; third vice president, H. M. Williamson, Denver; secretary, Charles J. Wolfram, Cleveland; treasurer, E. D. Moenig, Chicago; executive committee, George H. Benedict, chairman, Chicago; Lon Sanders, St. Louis; F. A. Bingler, New York; J. J. McElvain, South Bend, Ind.; A. J. Van Leyen, Detroit; E. S. Osgood, Chicago, and Samuel Mason, Cleveland.

Young Man Shot from Ambush.

KANE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—While following a bee, John Cliff, a young man of this city, was shot by some one hiding in the underbrush. Cliff received a charge of buckshot in the face. He was found and brought to this city. He is in a serious condition. No traces were found of the would-be assassin. Cliff believes he was mistaken for an enemy of the shooter.

Leishman Starts on Vacation.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 8.—John G. A. Leishman, United States minister to Turkey, started today for Paris, on his annual vacation.

SOCIETY

THERE is already activity among the artists, who are preparing for a busy year. That there will be an exhibition this fall by the Pittsburgh artists is assured by the women themselves who are even now looking for a suitable hall or gallery in which to hold the exhibition. The Pittsburgh Artists' association has not yet decided to give an exhibition, and in the event of its failure to make the necessary arrangements the women artists will hold an independent exhibition which will be open to all artists of the two cities.

The summer season with its changes of scene and new inspiration has resulted in some exceptionally good work done by both the men and the women. Several are back in town, but some will stay away until the cold weather. Miss Jeannette Agnew this summer has been painting in the Catskill mountains, and is most enthusiastic over the beauty of the scenery there, which, she claims, far surpasses that in the Adirondacks, where she has spent several previous summers. She will come home in a few days with a number of finished canvases and a group of sketches, the basis for her work this winter. Miss Anna Woodward returned a few days ago from Paris, where she has been for months, studying and painting in the studios of France and Holland. Miss Edith McIlvaine, the daughter of the rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End, is expected to reach home today. Miss McIlvaine has been studying all summer with Raphael Collins in Paris. She is an enthusiastic and talented young artist. Her work this summer has been exceptionally enjoyable, as she rode out from Paris each day to Fontenableau, where Raphael Collins has his studio in an old formal garden, where his pupils paint in the open air with their models posed amid the most picturesque environment. Miss McIlvaine is bringing back with her a painting by Walter Sherlock which she was commissioned to purchase for a well-known Pittsburgher.

A. Bryan Wall has spent almost the entire summer at Wildwood, a picturesque locality only four miles from Gresson, where he has painted continually. Miss Ida Smith and her mother were at Wildwood in June and a part of July, and went back later in the summer. Miss Smith only returning to the city a few days ago. Mr. Wall has painted several of his characteristic sheep pictures, one in particular being very attractive for its grouping and its color, the flock of sheep being driven by a woman carrying a child in her arms. Miss Smith found plenty of material for the scenes she likes best to paint—children playing in the woods and the fields, among her models this summer being a fun-loving little pickaninny. George Layne was also at Wildwood a portion of the summer and transferred a number of beautiful pictures to his canvas. Wildwood seems to have something for every one, for among Mr. Layne's most successful paintings and sketches were brook scenes with the cows in the landscape.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Stevenson, who are expected home in a day or two, have been spending most of the summer at a little fishing village on the west coast of France. Mrs. Stevenson, writing home during their absence, told of the simple character and innocent lives of the village people. One of the most interesting customs she relates is the habit of the young girls in the evening to gather on the shore and sing their hymns with a simple heartfelt reverence until the twilight falls, and then they separate to go back to their homes.

John W. Beatty, director of the Carnegie Art galleries, went up to Wildwood last week to stay a few weeks before he must come back to the city and prepare for the opening of the annual exhibition on Founder's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hildebrand, who were married last week in Eau Clair, Wis., will live in the Carnegie building in New York city, where they will have their studios. Mr. Hildebrand has a number of commissions ahead, and his winter will be a busy one. Mrs. Hildebrand, who was an art student in Paris when she met her future husband, devotes her talents principally to miniature.

Summer Vacation Ended.

A gay party of Pittsburgh people returned last week from Sun Set beach, New York, where they spent their vacation on an island owned by J. J. Miller of this city. The returning vacationists were Mr. and Mrs. William C. McKinley and their family, William C. Thoms and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Seidle, William Hazlett and family, George Wilson and family, James Piatt and family, Mrs. Elizabeth Border and her children, J. Kron and family, Mrs. Emma Elliza Hiller, William H. Ralph and family, Miss Laura McFarren, William Beubon and family, Miss Ada Galbraith and J. J. Miller.

Carnegie Monday Club.

The opening meeting of the Monday club of Carnegie was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. McCabe, at Leasdale, yesterday afternoon. The subjects of discussion treat wholly of American history, and 20 very interesting programs have been mapped out by the program committee, consisting of Mrs. J. A. Snodgrass and Miss Elizabeth Moore. Among the names of new members is that of Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, who has been elected an honorary member, the only one in the club. Mrs. T. J. George was leader of the inaugural meeting, which was taken up principally in comparing notes since vacation. The new officers were formally introduced. The officers are: President, Mrs. E. W. Powers; first vice president, Mrs. J. M. Duff; second vice president, Mrs. George Faunce; recording secretary, Mrs. J. L. Pitzer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Samuel Yourd, and treasurer, Mrs. William Hill. The executive committee includes all the officers and Mrs. J. A. Snodgrass and Miss Elizabeth Moore. The music committee is Mrs. W. J. Simpson, Mrs. R. F. Westermann and Mrs. W. S. Bryan. The auditing committee, Miss R. W. Shawhan and Mrs. R. L. Walker. Mrs. Westermann entertained the club with vocal music after the business was finished yesterday and the hostess served refreshments.

Stahl—Straw.

Cards were issued yesterday in Braddock announcing the marriage, on Thursday evening last, of Miss Della M. Stahl of Braddock avenue, Braddock, and Albert B. Straw of East Pittsburgh. The ceremony took place at Greensburg, at the home of the Rev. William F. Mays, pastor of Second Reformed church of that city. There were no attendants. The groom is an electrician at the Westinghouse electric works, and the bride has been well known in social circles in the Monongahela valley for several years. They will live in Linden avenue, East Pittsburgh, after September 15.

School of Domestic Science.

The Sewickley School of Domestic Science will open October 1, with Mrs. C. W. Bassett at its head until November, when she will move to her new home in Baltimore. The school will then be in charge of six women, chosen by the president, though Miss A. A. D'Oller will be in chief control. The foods department, which was such an important adjunct last year, will continue this year also, with Miss D'Oller as instructor.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Rhodes and Miss Rhodes, who have been in the Adirondacks, made an over-Sunday visit in New York.

The Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Coster, who have spent the summer at their cottage at Cresson, are back in Pittsburgh preparatory to the opening of the Bishop Bowman institute, of which Mr. Coster is principal.

Mrs. Wilson Cross of St. Clair street, East End, and her children have been spending the summer with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Weimer of Cincinnati. Mrs. Cross will leave in October for London, England, where she will join Mr. Cross, who will remain in London during the winter in the interest of the Standard Oil Company.

BYERS NOT ENTERED

Brilliant Local Golfer Will Hardly Play in Western Golf Championships This Week.

The ambitious golfers entered for the fourth annual tournament for the western golf championship which will commence on the Wheaton course, Chicago, on Wednesday, are disappointed over the failure of Eben M. Byers of Pittsburgh to enter up to date. The westerners were anxious for another peep at the great local player, who defeated Travis, but neither Byers nor Louis N. James, the present national champion, who defeated Byers, have yet entered.

Dallas C. Byers, a brother of the famous Pittsburgh golfer, said last night that Byers, who has been playing on the Watch Hill Country club course, Rhode Island, had every intention of competing in the western championships, when he rolumped from the east last week. He has been ill ever since the Chicago championships, however, and has been playing little golf since. This explains his absence, if he fails to compete, but there is still room for the reception of a late entry in this morning's mail and the presence of the local man on Wednesday morning.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. H. M. C. writes: I have great difficulty in getting raisins to remain evenly distributed in cakes after baking; they will sink to the bottom in a solid mass.

Raisins in Cake.

The raisins must be well floured and carefully mixed through the cake batter to prevent their sinking. If you have pieces of fruit too large, as their weight will cause them to sink. It is possible that the cake batter is too thin to hold the fruit in suspension, or you may use too much fruit. A batter for a rich fruit cake must be quite stiff. Dredge the fruit well with flour and toss it about until each piece is thoroughly covered and separate. You may have your oven too slow for the kind of cake made. We will give you a fruit cake receipe we have used for years and would like to hear what success you have with it.

Fig Bread.

Mrs. J. D. N. writes: I would like very much to obtain a good recipe for fig bread, also potato dumplings.

To each pint of very light white flour sponge add two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar and enough whole wheat flour to make a very stiff batter. Stir into that two cupfuls of chopped Black figs. Scoured well. Turn into well-greased bread pans, set to raise, and when light bake in a moderate oven about an hour and 15 minutes.

Potato Dumplings (Kartoffel Klosse).

Boil two quarts of potatoes and let them get very cold. Then grate them finely. Add four or five grated soda biscuits and two well-beaten eggs. Beat in sufficient flour to keep the mixture from sticking to your hands. Form into balls the size of walnuts. Cook in boiling salted water until they rise to the surface, in about 15 minutes. Remove from the water with a skimmer and place on a platter. Cover with brown bread slices. Nice served with liver and bacon, beef a la mode, or with sauerkraut, and sometimes served as a breakfast or luncheon dish, fried.

WITHOUT THEIR LEADER, THE PIRATES ACT LIKE LOST SHEEP

PIRATES WERE TWICE BEATEN BY THE GIANTS

First Time This Season Two Games Were Lost in One Day.

SEBRING LOOKS THE REAL THING

The New Outfielder Made Good Both at Bat and in the Field. McLaughlin, a New Twirler, Will Join Champions Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 8.—The Pirates and the Giants had it out at the Polo grounds today for over three hours. The first game was a pitchers' battle between "Iron Man" McGinnity and Chesbro up to the sixth inning, when both teams scored a run, the Giants adding two more to their score in the next inning by successive hitting. Outside of the work of the pitchers the game was featureless.

After Sebring was thrown out in the sixth inning Leach smashed out a two-bagger. Wagner followed this up with one of his famous bunts for three quarters of circuit, sending in Leach with the only run scored by the Pirates. Ritchey hit a high foul to Bresnahan, who made a fine catch and by a quick throw caught Wagner at the plate.

When First Game Was Won.

Lauder made a single in this inning and stole second. Ritchey made a good stop of Smith's hot grounder, but could not get his man, and Lauder scored on the play. Two more were added in the seventh. Dunn reached first, Conroy could not hold his hit. After McGinnity sacrificed Brown hit for three bases, sending in Dunn. Bresnahan bunted, Browne tallying on the play.

Acting manager Wagner sent Sam Leever in for the second game, but nothing seemed to stop the Giants today, and for the first time this season the Pirates had their colors lowered twice in one day. The Giants took kindly to the "Schoolmaster" in the first two innings. By some clean hitting they piled up five runs, enough to win the game.

Not until the seventh inning could the champions get a man over the plate, and in this inning they looked dangerous for McGraw's men. Sebring, the new player, in this inning placed a nice single, sending in two men, and at this point the Giants showed a case of rattles, errors being made both by fielders and basemen which netted the Pirates four runs.

Sebring Shows His Worth.

After Conroy flied out Phelps singled. Leever reached first on Bresnahan's muff of McGraw's throw. Beaumont hugged the corners by a nice bunt. Sebring followed it up with a hit, scoring Phelps and Leever. Brodie muffed Leach's low drive to center, Beaumont scoring. Wagner put up a weak fly to Smith and Ritchey got a free pass. Burke had a good chance to make things interesting; he sent an easy grasser to Lauder and reached first, Sebring scoring on the play. The Giants made three runs in the first inning on hits by Browne, McGraw and Bresnahan; Brodie's long fly; Bowerman's fierce grounder, of which Leach made a great knockdown of, and Lauder's two-bagger.

They added two more in the second. Dunn hit a hot one to Leach and reached first, going to second on Cronin's sacrifice. Browne hit to Leach, who threw high to Wagner; Honus got the ball back to Leach in time to pinch Dunn, who had tried to sneak a base on the error. Browne pilfered second. McGraw got four bad ones and Bresnahan singled, Browne scoring. McGraw tallied on Brodie's fly. Two more were made in the eighth on successive hitting and a wild pitch.

New Man Looks All Right.

Sebring of the Worcester team made his debut in fast company today and looks the part of a ball player all over. Tomorrow Pitcher McLaughlin of the New London club will report for duty to the Pirates. Manager Clarke has left the team in charge of Wagner while he is in Kansas attending the golden anniversary of the wedding of his father and mother. The scores:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Sam Leever was up against it yesterday in the second game and the schoolmaster's curves were bunped good and hard, the Giants getting 13 hits off his delivery. Sammy evidently is taking care of that wing of his in order to put it into good use down at Pensacola this winter. The trouble with the champions yesterday was their inability to hit either Mc-Ginnity or Cronin. Five hits in one game and seven in another is light batting for champions.

Sebring, the new fielder secured from the Worcester club, joined the Pirates yesterday and took part in both games. In the first game he was in left field and only had one fielding chance, but in the second he was shifted to right field, where he fielded four chances. He made one hit in the first game and also made a hit and scored a run in the second contest.

Two more players dropped into line for next season yesterday. They were Chief Zimmer and Jimmy Burke. The signing of Zimmer was not much of a surprise, as the chief can always be relied on, but it was thought O'Connor would line Burke up for the American, but such was not the case. Burke will be used as the club's general utility man for next season.

Rube Waddell is doing yeoman service for Connie Mack in an effort to land the American league pennant in Philadelphia. Rube pitched Mack's team to a victory over Cleveland on Saturday and yesterday the Butler county boy went into the box and repeated the trick. Connie must have Rube hypnotized to keep control of him the way he has since joining the Quakers.

SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER.

Hulswitt and Maloney Had Lively Scrap on the Field.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Philadelphia and Cincinnati broke even on a double-header today. In the first game the home team won on opportune hitting. In the second contest the visitors hit Berg freely, while Theiman kept the hits scattered. Both games were lively played, and the fifth inning of the second game Hulswitt and Maloney indulged in a lively fist fight and both were put out of the game. Attendance, 1,849. The scores:

EASY FOR BROOKLYN.

Donovan's Team Just Managed to Save a Shutout.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 8.—The Brooklyn team easily defeated the St. Louis players today, the visitors only scoring a run in the ninth inning. Up to that time Bell pitched them well in hand for three hits in eight innings. Brooklyn scored four runs in the first inning. Errors by Kruger and M. O'Neil were responsible for these runs, as the latter should have put out without scoring. Bill Donovan's home run hit to deep center was the feature. The score:

DICK COOLEY'S SINGLE.

It Brought in the Winning Run for Boston's Team.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—A pass, an out and Cooley's single in the third gave Boston the winning run in today's game. Morrissey, formerly of the Manchester New England team, pitched for Chicago and held Boston down to five hits. Willis pitched a splendid game, not allowing more than a single hit in an inning. Homestead Game Called Off.

Manager Howard M. Risher of the H. L. A. C. has cancelled the game scheduled for this afternoon between his team and an aggregation known as the Homestead All-stars. Several of the Homestead players are away and Manager Risher could not get a team together for the game. On Thursday Homestead plays the Rochester, and on Friday and Saturday Jamestown will be at Steel Works park.

Geneva's Team Down to Work.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Joe Thompson, captain of Geneva college baseball team, has the right spirit, and each afternoon on the athletic field putting them through their practice. Capt. Thompson says he has a promising lot of youngsters and his team will be better this year than ever. Coach Craig will not take charge of the team until Capt. Thompson has the men for his team selected.

Will Reserve Special Seats.

Billy Corcoran yesterday received a letter from Robert Wray of the Southern Athletic club, Louisville, stating he would reserve 100 of the best seats for Pittsburghers who wish to attend the Corbett and McGovern contest September 22. Billy Corcoran has made arrangements for a special train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, leaving Sunday night at 8.30, returning at 2.30 Tuesday morning.

BUNCHED HITS AGAIN.

St. Louis Got Them Off Mercer and Took the Game.

DETROIT, Sept. 8.—In the three innings that St. Louis bunched hits off Mercer they accumulated eight runs, three more than necessary to win. Stupid base running in the fifth when Thielman, on Burke's single, was put out cost Detroit dear. Catches by Harley were the fielding features. Score:

PLAYED AT BASEBALL

Passenger and Freight Agent Teams Had an Awful Time Trying to Handle the Ball.

Over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon ball teams representing the passenger and freight agents of the city met in a sort of a go-as-you-please ball game, and for two hours the stamping grounds of the champions was the scene of about as wild and weird an exhibition of the national game as was ever produced on the diamond.

There was only one player on either team who had the hardihood to don a baseball uniform, and before the contest had gone two innings that player—Mitchell, employed by the first baseman of the passenger team, looked as though he was ashamed of himself, and well he might. The players handled the ball with about the same accuracy that an elephant would make a coupling or a Pullman car porter would refuse a tip. There was no official scorer on hand, and had there been one he would have to be supplied with chalk to keep tap on the runs and errors. It was generally conceded at the conclusion of the game that the freight handlers had won, but no one could tell what the score was.

GEORGE DIXON BEATEN.

Pedlar Palmer Outpoints the Former Lightweight Champion.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Pedlar Palmer, English, defeated George Dixon, American, in a 15-round bout at the National Athletic club tonight for $500 a side and a purse of $500.

Dixon was the favorite at odds of 2 to 5 to 4, but after the second round Palmer showed such smartness that the odds turned in his favor. Dixon seemed quite unable to cope with the Englishman, although in the twelfth round when Palmer's hands were rather handicapped, he displayed a determined effort which he kept up until the end, but he could not offset Palmer's big lead of points secured in the early rounds of the contest.

Both Dixon seemed to have lost much of his old time hitting power. Both men were loudly applauded. Four ounce gloves were used and the weight limit of the fight was 120 pounds.

Harry Ware retained the bantam weight championship of England and will try to get a match with Harry Forbes of Chicago for the world's championship. Tom Jones of Lancashire defeated E. Lawrence, American, at the National Athletic club tonight in the light-weight wrestling match.

HANS WAGNER SUSPENDED.

Not Our Honus, the Ball Player, But His Namesake.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The stewards of the Jockey club today appointed J. G. Follansbee as steward to represent the jockey club at the Brooklyn Jockey club autumn meeting.

On the recommendation of the stewards of the Saratoga association the secretary was directed to advise all associations racing under the jurisdiction of the jockey club that the entry of the horse Hans Wagner be rejected in future.

On the recommendation of the stewards of the Saratoga association the license of Jockey R. Henderson was suspended, and the license of H. Wilson was also suspended on the recommendation of the license committee.

Outfielder Flournoy Suspended.

TOLEDO, Sept. 8.—John Flourney, the fast left fielder of the Louisville American association team, was today indefinitely suspended for insubordination.

Trouble Feared Over Magyar Flag.

Trouble is expected in Homestead on September 15, when the Magyar flag, recently received in this country from Buda Pest, will be carried through the streets by the Magyars of Homestead and surrounding towns. The trouble is expected from the Slavish residents, who number nearly five to one of the Magyars and are extremely bitter against the flag. The Magyars expect a parade in which 3,000 will take part.

Miner Dies from Bullet Wound.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Stephen Krafta, the miner at Hermitin, shot by Agnetz Hounle, on August 16, died today at the Westmoreland hospital. Krafta was shot under the arm. The murderer has not yet been captured, although a posse of miners have been scouring the country since the shooting.

THE CHALLENGE FROM SIR THOMAS

LIPTON SAYS HE WILL FORWARD IT SOON.

In Meantime He Will Step Aside if Any Other Britishers Want a Chance.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROTHESAY, SCOTLAND, Sept. 8.—In an interview today with a representative of the Associated Press Sir Thomas Lipton said that he would mail a formal challenge for the Americas cup to the New York Yacht club within two or possibly three weeks. If, however, in the meantime any British yachtsmen or combination of yachtsmen challenged they would have his cordial assistance and the use of the Shamrock II. as a trial horse, absolutely free of cost. Sir Thomas added that the stories about his new boat being already half built was false.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Members of the New York Yacht club were not surprised at the receipt of the news that Sir Thomas Lipton was almost ready to challenge again. They had expected a challenge soon, and thought it likely that Sir Thomas Lipton would not be long in making it, owing to his known desire for early racing.

W. Butler Duncan, Jr., manager of the Constitution in her races with the Shamrock II., said that the men who would be called upon to defend the cup were not particularly pleased with the prospect, but they would defend the cup to the best of their ability.

J. Fred Tams, for many years a member of the Americas cup committee, said he was glad to know that the matter would soon be settled, but the club would take no action on the subject or any steps toward building until the actual challenge was at hand. He thought that the reason why the challenge was coming earlier than usual was that Sir Thomas wanted to try his fortune in the trade winds of August, which were steadier than the breezes of the latter part of September and in October.

Young Woman Tries Suicide.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Beecham, of Buffalo, N. Y., made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide at the residence of George Jones, in Wheatland, last night, where she was visiting. The young woman was in love with Fred Wilson, also of Buffalo. Yesterday they had a quarrel and Wilson left Sharon. Miss Beecham tried to choke herself with a necktie. She was discovered by one of the Jones family and it required three hours to revive her.

BRADLEY PLACE PROPERTY SOLD FOR $27,000

ie Plan Is Rapidly Building Up With Fine Residences.

SS STREET PROPERTY BOUGHT FOR $20,000

ts Change Hands for $130,000. reparing Site for New Tube Works at McKeesport—Second Sale of Westinghouse Lots.

Another of the fine residences recently erected in Bradley place has been marketed for a price approximating $27,000. The deal was handled by Bohen & Sons, who sold the property for the Bradley Plan Land Company to an East End business man. The residence, like all its class that have been built in Bradley place, stands on a large lot measuring 100x150 feet. It is situated on the east side of Atlantic avenue, near Millvale avenue, Twentieth ward. The residence is a colonial house of the latest pattern and contains 14 rooms, all finished in hard wood and provided with the latest conveniences.

In center avenue a short distance from this property another colonial brick and stone house to cost $22,000 has just been started by James W. Platt. Frank McMasters has also purchased a lot in Brown street within the last few days and will begin at once the erection of an $8,000 house. The promoters of Bradley place are adhering to their original resolution to make it a strictly high-class residence district, and the new houses that are proposed are being planned according to rigid building restrictions.

Ross Street Sale of $20,000.

The property at Nos. 309 and 311 Ross street, Second ward, has changed owners for a consideration of $20,000. It formerly belonged to John A. Reese and has been purchased by Henry J. Bailey. The lot measures 40x72 feet and is situated on the west side of the street, between Third and Fourth avenues. It is improved with a three-story brick house and adjoins the properties of A. Floyd, the John Wilson estate and Leopold Vilsack. The purchase was made for an investment.

Through the agency of James H. Thompson, Lewis B. Fulton has sold to Marx Browarsky a property on the east side of Atlantic avenue, Twentieth ward, for $10,000 cash. The lot measures 40x139 feet and is improved with a 10-room brick house.

A Big Deal Closed.

The final papers have been passed in the sale of the Shickler flats in Mathilda street, the consideration being $130,000. By the transfer the property goes into the hands of James G. Blaine McAuley, who gets title to it from George W. Eberhart, testamentary trustee of the estate of William Eberhardt. The sale was noted several weeks ago when the agreements were signed. The property consists of five modern three-story flats of 36 rooms each, which stand on a lot facing 316 feet on the west side of Mathilda street, opposite the site of the new high school building, and having a depth of 113 feet. The flats rent for $11,640 a year.

The Aronson Realty Company, through George C. Norris & Co., has sold to Attorney I. Leonard Aronson the Biggerstaff property in Washington street, near the Union station, for $12,500 cash. The property has a frontage of 30 feet and a depth of 112 feet. The improvements consist of two store rooms and a dwelling. The purchaser bought the lot for investment, and contemplates the erection of a modern warehouse.

The work of clearing the site for the big tube works to be erected by the United States Steel Corporation at McKeesport has started. The first of the property owners to vacate was Adam Hoffman, who has given possession of his property in Huey street, near the National rolling mill. The new site embraces nearly 30 small pieces of property, most of which are rented. During the last two weeks many of the owners have been notified that their options had been accepted and were requested to bring in their deeds for examination. Beyond this they have heard nothing and the resulting uncertainty as to the company's time of beginning operations has had a slight dampening effect upon the real estate boom in the Tube City. Now, however, it is believed that the vacation of the properties will proceed without delay and owners who are to move, or have been sought to, will make new purchases.

Trafford City No. 2.

The remarkable success which attended the opening of Trafford City, June 7, has encouraged the Real Estate Trust Company to start the first addition to this popular city of the Westinghouse interests this fall. A second boom sale of lots will be held Saturday, September 13, and preparations are being made to have it in every way as successful as the first one. Chartered free excursion trains will leave Johnstown, Derry, Latrobe, Greensburg, Uniontown, Connellsville, Scottdale, Irwin, Jeannette and Pittsburgh and intermediate points, on the morning of the sale. The lots to be sold Saturday range in price from $150 to $400, $50 per cent of which is to be paid down, with the balance at the rate of 3 per cent a month. That the first sale attracted a splendid class of buyers is proven by the fact that not a single lot has gone back and that a large number of the purchasers took advantage of the 15 per cent off for cash, to settle their accounts immediately. The foundation and structural iron work on the great pattern shop of the Westinghouse company are now up and the foundations for the first foundry building are finished. The first foundry, which will be 300 feet long, will be in operation next spring. The Westinghouse Machine Company has already let the contract for 25 high-class residences and a $50,000 hotel. In addition, a $23,000 bank building is planned for early erection. The class of work and the character of the improvements that are being made are making the Greater Trafford City one of the choice real estate propositions of the year.

Oakdale Working Up.

Oakdale is boom hungry and its citizens are taking active steps to secure the improvements needed to set the town on the road to increasing prosperity. A petition is now being circulated asking the Pittsburgh Railways Company to construct a street car line from Carnegie to Oakdale, a distance of seven miles. In case the request is not heeded it is probable that the citizens will take up the matter themselves. Next week a proposition from the Forrest Oil Company will be presented to the council for piping water to the town. In connection with this, steps will be taken to complete the sewerage system. Brick or block stone pavements are also on the bill of things which will be asked for at once and it is rumored that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will take part in the movement that these new studies.

A charter was granted yesterday to the Locust Grove Land Company of McKeesport, which was lately organized with a capital of $24,000. The directors are Louis O. Sands, Charles Schwan, Edmund Van Deusen, Edward C. Burkhart and William Enright. The company lately bought a large tract in McKeesport and proposes to improve it with a lot of new buildings this winter.

NO ABATEMENT OF IRON DEMAND IS YET VISIBLE

Archer Brown Thinks It Will Continue Heavy for Some Time to Come.

IMPORTS WILL MAKE UP THE DEFICIENCY

Eastern Steel Producers Look for Settlement of the Anthracite Strike This Week—Bankers Fear No Money Stringency.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 8.—Archer Brown of the well-known firm of Rogers, Brown & Co. pronounces himself an abiding bull on the iron situation.

"I can see no sign of abatement," said he today, "in the demand for pig. To the contrary, I find that manufacturers generally are anxious for conditions to ease up a bit so that they may catch up with their deliveries. I believe the demand is likely to continue in this manner for a long time to come. The business already booked precludes any contemplation of a slackening.

"Iron manufacturers actually are suffering from a too great prosperity. They have more business than they can conveniently manage. Notwithstanding the enormous general railroad traffic, which is interfering with the movement of coal and coke consigned to blast furnaces, and is thereby curtailing to some extent the output of those furnaces, I am of the opinion that this year's production of pig iron will not fall materially short of the early estimates, which is to say that I believe the production for 1902 will aggregate close upon 18,000,000 tons. I estimate the consumption at 19,000,000 tons. The apparent deficit between production and consumption will be made good by imports, which are now running at about 2,000 tons a day. The continued importation of pig and other iron at the present rate ought easily to yield 1,000,000 tons for the year.

"Reverting to traffic conditions, there is very little relief in sight except that arising from the appearance of additional locomotives and cars on the various big railroad systems. The car and locomotive plants are turning out equipment as fast as they can—so fast, indeed, that notwithstanding the immense number of locomotives and cars the railroad companies are throwing daily into the scrap heap the net increase of equipment is considerable."

In connection with what Mr. Brown says about railroad equipment, it may be remarked that the American Locomotive Company last week booked orders for 245 locomotives of different types.

Looking for Strike Settlement.

Eastern iron producers are receiving very encouraging news from the strike regions. Their information agrees with that which is reaching Wall street, which is that the trouble is likely to be settled this week with or within the scope of Senator Platt's strange prophesy. Here in Wall street the opinion is very positive among professional interests that Reading will sell "ex-strike" before the end of the week. Nobody seems quite clear as to how the trouble is to be settled, but the belief that it will be settled somehow before the close of the week is very positive.

Bankers Predict No Stringency.

Notwithstanding the weak position of the banks from the standpoint of surplus, bankers continue to insist that a money stringency is out of the question and that extraordinary financial measures will be unnecessary. Confidence is expressed that conditions will be automatically relieved. Commenting on the subject, the president of a large Wall street national bank said:

"The banks of the west are well supplied with money, and in the event of a continuance of high money rates in the east, currency will be attracted to this center. Then, again, there is every reason to believe that these same high rates will result in early shipments of gold from Europe. Before the crop-moving season is at an end Europe will be in our debt to the extent of many millions of dollars, and we might as well anticipate a little of this gold. The movement of the foreign exchange market indicates that gold imports are not very far off. The new circulation that the banks will take out during the next few weeks, will serve to relieve matters considerably. In fact, $15,000,000 new bank notes will furnish all the relief necessary.

Pleased With Ore Situation.

Officials of the Sharon Steel Company have returned from a week's inspection of the company's ore properties in the Lake Superior district. They speak most encouragingly of the ore situation. Incidentally it is figured that the shipments of iron ore from the upper lake ports for August were 4,500,000 gross tons.

Two New Corporations.

The Standard Iron Mixing & Furnace Company has been incorporated in New Jersey with a capital of $2,000,000. The incorporators are Joseph A. Baker, F. H. Lamb and G. H. Martin, all of Camden, N. J.

The Pittsburgh Switch & Signal Company is the name of a concern that filed papers of incorporation in New Jersey last Saturday. It has a capital stock of $250,000, and is permitted to engage in the manufacture of railroad supplies. The incorporators are L. F. Miller, J. O. Odell and M. J. Jacobs, who give their address as Camden, N. J.

E. W. HARDEN.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

We are inclined to favor selling on money conditions.

Mr. Keene is very bullish on Manhattan and Pacific.

There is excellent buying of Brooklyn Rapid Transit and P. O.

Friends of Atchison say that the common will cross 5 hundred.

Pool brokers have been big buyers of Missouri Pacific. There is also very good buying in both Missouri Pacific and St. Paul. I think they are both safe to buy even at these prices.

Keep long of soft coalers and buy Ontario & Western on any little recession. The Pennsylvania interests freely predict 175 for the stock and the 4 per cent warrants are good for 115 or better. Chicago & Grand Trunk, Pacific Mail and Iowa Centrals may be again taken hold of.—Josephs.

The whole list looks as though it would go much higher, and we strongly urge the purchase of good railroad stocks. In the low priced stocks we favor Erie, Texas Pacific and Wheeling & Lake Erie. Hear good things about Colorado Steel Car and advise taking on some. Only one side to this market at the present writing, and that is the long side.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $212,645,240; gold, $122,177,622; silver, $26,214,773; United States notes, $5,253,352; treasury notes of 1890, $66,573; national bank notes, $15,265,818; total receipts this day, $2,328,742; total receipts this month, $12,910,470; total receipts this year, $110,821,047; total expenditures this day, $1,970,000; total expenditures this month, $12,270,000; total expenditures this year, $112,147,178; deposits in national banks, $126,914,517.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

(By Leased Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Late advices from Joplin note a satisfactory condition in zinc and lead affairs. While the ore market has remained steady for two weeks, with top grade zinc bringing from $38 00 to $39 00 a ton, the upward course of spelter indicates much higher prices in the near future. During the past eight months the output of the district was 384,158,470 pounds of zinc, valued at $5,418,240, and 43,109,400 pounds of lead, valued at $956,277. The zinc sales were nearly $1,081,837 in excess of the same period last year. It is estimated that the year's production will exceed $10,000,000.

The rumor is revived at Salt Lake that John Hayes Hammond is negotiating for the Silver King at Park City for an English syndicate.

Samples of ore taken from the California-Nevada at Lovelock, Nev., assay from $100 to $2,500 to the ton. A two-foot pay streak running $8,000 in silver has been found in an abandoned working.

A dispatch from Boise, Idaho, says fine ore has been found on Sugar creek and Placer creek, on Rainbow mountain. Big creek, in the Thunder mountain district, is also appealing to miners and prospectors. A large quartz ledge about 200 feet wide in places has been traced for 15 miles.

Discoveries of large quantity of gold coming in from Gold creek, in the Klondike, mainly from diggings that were abandoned after the first rush into the district.

The Metal Markets.

The feature of today's metal markets was the improvement in the demand for copper and the corresponding sharp advance in that metal. There were sales of 600,000 pounds reported, including 100,000 pounds of electrolytic for October delivery; 250,000 pounds for November and 250,000 pounds for December at $11 80. Also 25,000 pounds for October delicery at $11 80. The market here closed firm, with standard spot at $11 80@11 75; lake, 12@12¼c; electrolytic, $11 75@11 85, and casting at $11 75@11 85. The London market was also higher, spot advancing 17s 6d to 153 5s and futures the same at 153 12s 6d. Tin was easy and dull locally at $27 00@27 12½, while in London it was 5s lower for spot, at £123 2s 6d and £1 10s lower for future at £117 15s. Lead was quiet and unchanged both at London and here, at $4 12½@4 15 here and equal to £14 4s 1½d@14 4s 4½d in London at £19 8s 9d. Spelter easier here, but without change from 5.50c. The London price also was unchanged at £19 7s 6d. Iron at Glasgow closed at 57s 8d and at Middlesboro at 52s 4½d. The New York iron market was steady and unchanged. Warrants continue nominal. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $22 00@23 00, and No. 1 foundry southern soft, $22 00@23 00.

STOCK MARKET STRONG IN FACE OF HIGH MONEY

During the Day Loans Ruled at Ten Per Cent in Wall Street.

BUYING MOVEMENT WAS SPECULATIVE

Western Railroads and Some of the Industrials Made New High Records—London Sold 5,000 Shares on Balance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 8.—Persistent strength in the face of continued high money, which at one time ruled at 10 per cent, and a further draining of local resources, were the most striking features of today's stock market. Under London's lead the list ignored last week's bank statement, opening with but the slightest trace of irregularity, although this condition became rather acute before the end of the first hour, when demand loans were quoted at 8 per cent.

Apparently the buying movement which was again largely speculative, was based upon the assumption that a continuance of high money would bring gold imports. Reading common advanced about 2 per cent in the initial trading, but soon lost much of its gain, only to more than recover its loss at the close. The early features in point of strength and activity were Missouri Pacific, St. Paul, Baltimore & Ohio, Wabash issues, Canadian Pacific, Pacific Coast, Pacific Mail and some other railway issues, while in the industrial class there were very material gains in the independent steel and iron stocks, American Smelting and Amalgamated Copper.

High Records Made.

New high records were again the order of the day. St. Paul; Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie; Pacific Coast common and second preferred, American Car & Foundry, Pressed Steel Car preferred, Republic Iron & Steel common and preferred, Cast Iron Pipe and Railway Steel Springs selling higher than at any previous time. In the outside market heavy dealing in Northern Securities advanced that stock to 118¾, a new high record, and there was considerable activity in the new Rock Island issues.

Recessions of the early market were clearly due to profit-taking no less than to apprehension over the monetary outlook, but from start to close the market maintained a firm undertone. Reference has already been made to the dominance of the speculative element in today's transactions, and it is a fact that commission house report little increase of investment or public buying.

No less true, however, is it that much of the day's buying came from strong quarters, Missouri Pacific and St. Paul, for instance, being bought in large blocks by brokers who were said to represent the so-called Standard Oil interests. Western advices reiterating promises of bumper corn crops in Missouri and Kansas are supposed to have stimulated the buying of the railway stocks of that territory.

Strengthened at the Close.

London traded moderately in the market, selling about 5,000 shares on balance out of a total of 25,000 shares. A significant feature was the unusually heavy demand for stocks in the loan crowd, especially Union Pacific for immediate delivery. Rumors of the purchase of the Detroit Southern and Pere Marquette by Pennsylvania interests were not confirmable.

Further indications of the disintegration of the soft coal strike were at hand, but no news bearing on the anthracite situation was heard. In the last hour the market broadened and grew stronger in many directions, the trans-continental stocks leading with sharp gains in Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul and Rock Island, the latter making the greater part of its 4¼ point gain in that time.

Transfers of $350,000 to New Orleans for crop purposes were reported, and the subtreasury had a credit balance of $800,000 at the clearing house as a result of heavy internal revenue collections. Call money declined to 6 per cent, closing at 8 per cent. There were further declines in sterling exchange. The closing was, in the main, firm.

The bond market was active and firm with a three-point rise in the Wabash debenture 6s on enormous dealings. There was no news to account for the extraordinary activity in this issue but the opinion was expressed that it was in the nature of a speculative movement based upon the strengthening of the system. Total sales par value $4,750,000. United States old 4s declined ¼ per cent, and the new 4s registered advanced 1¾ and do coupon 1¾ per cent on the last call.

Talked About in Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

Speculative sentiment viewed the depletion of cash of the local banks as shown on Saturday last with utter unconcern yesterday, and its immediate effect on the money market did not seem to influence the stock market pools in the slightest. Prices were fully maintained during the day. There were few recessions and numerous advances. It was true that commission house business fell off considerably, but there was no let-up in the volume of business carried on by the pools and syndicates. The volume of speculation and the course of prices in face of an 8 per cent money market, were matters, however, which few could satisfactorily explain.

The acute condition of the money market was shown very early when call loans were made at from 6 to 8 per cent. Despite the calling of loans by some of the banks who are below their legal requirements, and the flood of selling orders from the country, the morning prices exhibited a strength that was phenomenal, considering the actual conditions. At no time during the stock exchange hours was there any relaxation in the money market. Borrowers were compelled to pay the high rates of 7 to 8 per cent, and at one time 10 per cent was reached.

The advance in St. Paul, which proved to be the leader of the market along with Missouri Pacific, was begun in London. The effect of the higher prices established in this stock was seen in some of the other leading Grangers, and the advance assisted in establishing a degree of confidence. It is now definitely stated that there is a basis for the repeated reports of a traffic alliance between the St. Paul and the Missouri Pacific, and that negotiations with that end in view are now under way. Trading in Missouri Pacific constituted more than one-seventh of the total transactions. The activity in this stock extended to all the Gould properties.

Wall street once more had the coal strike settled. It was said that a compromise was to be made, as a result of a disruption in the ranks of the operators and that an advance in wages would be granted the miners. This advance in wages would be borne by the public in an advance in the price of coal. The various reports which flew thick and fast from the coal centers to New York, and from Philadelphia here telling of a settlement were one and all denied by local coal presidents.

NEW YORK PRICES.

Local Stocks Were Very Active and Prices Generally Quite Firm

CRUCIBLE STEEL WENT UP ON BIG BUYING ORDERS

The Common Stock Was Active and Firmer on Gossip About Dividends.

PITTSBURGH COAL WAS HIGHER

On Sales of Nearly 5,000 Shares the Price Advanced to 32--Window Glass Gained and Reacted. Brewing Common Was Higher.

The volume of business transacted at yesterday's session of the Pittsburgh stock exchange was the largest in some months, the sales being over 13,000 shares. The general tone of the market was quite firm, though some of the active issues reacted fractionally at the close. A favorite was Crucible Steel common, which sold over 3,600 shares at 23@23⅞, the highest price in months, closing firm at 23¾, a gain of ⅜ for the day. The preferred sold over 300 shares and was firm at 88. The advance in the common is due to the belief that the stock will be placed upon a dividend basis before long, if not next month. The beginning of work at the Clairton plant is considered a bull card and fixes the bulls in their contention that dividends cannot much longer be prevented. A singular contrast to the activity in the Crucible issues was the dullness in United States Steels. Not a share changed hands during the day and quotations were scarce and without importance. The common closed at 41⅛ bid and 41¼ asked. The preferred finished with offers at 91¼, no bids being made.

As has been the case for some days, Pittsburgh Coal was again the most active stock of the day, nearly 4,700 shares changing hands. The price, which opened at 31⅝, advanced to 32 and closed at 31⅞, a gain of ¼. The preferred was dull but steady and unchanged at 92. River coals were very dull and fractionally lower, the common losing ¼ at 12¾ and the preferred ¼ at 40⅜. A feature of the early trading was the buying by an inside house of 1,000 shares of Pittsburgh Brewing common at 31, after which nearly 300 shares more sold ⅛ higher. The preferred was dull and took the other course, 50 shares selling at 47⅜, a loss of ⅛. Window Glass opened fairly active and quickly advanced from 61⅜ to 62½. Near the close it reacted and finished steady at 61¾, sales and bid, a gain of ⅛ for the day. The preferred advanced 1 to 91½ and closed firm at 91 bid. Westinghouse Electric seconds opened at 112½, advanced to 113, reacted to the opening figure and finally finished firmer at 113⅛ bid. The firsts were not quoted. Westinghouse Airbrake also passed the day without a quotation, while Union Switch & Signal common was unchanged and dull at 96. Philadelphia Company common was fairly active and advanced ⅝ to 50 on sales of nearly 650 shares. Pressed Steel Car issues were strong, the common advancing $3 to $54 and the preferred $1 75 to $90, the highest price in months. In the Bond List Columbia National sold $5 lower at $380. Colonial Trust opened at $300, sold at $400 and closed firm at $400 50, a gain of $4 50 for the day. First National Bank of Pittsburgh opened at $635 and jumped to $685, a gain of $22 since the last previous sale. In the quotations Fidelity Title & Trust advanced to $422 bid and Pittsburgh Trust to $655, a new high record. United States National bank advanced $2 to $142 bid. The advance in the latter is due probably to the action of the directors taken yesterday to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $900,000, the new stock to be sold at $140 per share. The rights to subscribe will doubtless cause the price of the present stock to still further advance. The bond market was dull but steady and firm.

WANTED RECORD OF WEDDING AND BRIDE'S NAME

One of Three Self-Marriages Recalled by Strange Request.

A LETTER OF INQUIRY FROM OHIO

Mrs. Lillian Hammond of Bedford Writes Orphans' Court for Record of Marriage of W. A. Thompson.

Register Fred W. Edwards received a letter from Mrs. Lillian Hammond of Bedford, O., asking for the record of the marriage of William A. Thompson one year after the new marriage license laws went into effect, and examination proved that this marriage was one of three self-marriages in the history of this county, and said to be one of seven on record in the state of Pennsylvania. Thompson, it appeared, belonged to a sect that did not believe in any other marriage than that of the consent of the contracting parties and so put himself and his wife on record. The letter reads:

"BEDFORD, O.

"To the Probate court, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

"Dear Sir—Will you be kind enough to look over the marriage record from 1880 until 1887 and let me know if there was a man by the name of W. A. Thompson married within those dates, and who did he marry? Please state the year and the name of the woman, and oblige,

"MRS. LILLIAN HAMMOND."

The record which had not been seen since the year 1886 shows that William A. Thompson, then employed with a well-known Pittsburgh firm, secured a marriage license to wed Miss Mary Mills. It was issued November 18 of that year by Register Philip Heerr, then clerk of the Orphans' court. Thompson was born in the Thirty-fifth ward of this city November 7, 1863, and his wife was born in England November 19, 1868, she being but 18 years of age. Thompson swore he was not married before and that no legal impediment existed for which a license should be refused. The following certificate was afterwards filed:

"We hereby certify that on the 18th day of November, 1886, we united ourselves in marriage at Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, having obtained from the clerk of the Orphans' court of said county a declaration that he was satisfied that there was no existing legal impediment to our so doing." This was signed by the contracting parties and witnessed by William Harris and Lydia Jones.

Register Edwards sent a copy of this record to the person making the inquiry. No explanation accompanied the letter and Bee reason for wishing to know the facts cannot be learned.

LESSON FOR BURGLARS.

James Johnson and John Hill Get Four Years Each—Other Heavy Sentences in Criminal Court.

James Johnston and John Hills were convicted of burglary and were sentenced to four years in the Western penitentiary.

On the morning of August 16 Justice W. F. Russell of Bridgeville was awakened by a noise in the room adjoining his bedroom and discovered two men in the room. As the men left the house Russell emptied his revolver at them. The burglars were captured after a short search by Russell and his constable and proved to be the defendants.

William Lash was convicted of robbing Patrick Oates of $100 and was sentenced to the workhouse for three years. Andrew Hahn was sentenced to the workhouse for one year for attacking Annie Sholes, aged 7. He was prosecuted by the little girl's father, Frank S. Sholes, of 717 Cedar avenue, Allegheny. Edward Humphries, who on last Friday was convicted of a similar offense committed upon Belle Williams, aged 9 years, pleaded no defense to the same charge, preferred in behalf of Shirely Ludwig, a 12-year-old girl.

Policeman William McSeveney of McKeesport was released from jail yesterday on $10,000 bail on a charge of murdering Harry Weber of McKeesport. Philip Zenn and R. W. Elkin are his bondsmen.

ARE AGAIN AT WAR.

Pittsburgh Tunnel Company Charges Its Rival With Interfering With Its Work.

The Pittsburgh Tunnel Company and the Mt. Washington Tunnel Company are again up in arms, and once more Judge E. H. Stowe in common pleas court No. 1 was called upon to settle the differences between these corporations to tunnel Mt. Washington.

Some time ago the companies went into court with cross-bills claiming interference with each other's rights, and after considerable litigation Judge Stowe decided that both companies could proceed with their work upon the rights of way enjoined without hindering each other, although the entrances are only about six feet apart.

This arrangement was all right for a time, but yesterday Attorney A. M. Neeper and Attorney William M. Lindsay went into court alleging the employes of the Mt. Washington company were interfering with the work of the men of the Pittsburgh company. In support of this John Nicholson, a contractor for the Pittsburgh company, was heard. He alleged that upon August 30 the workmen for the Mt. Washington company were drilling to blast upon the premises of the Pittsburgh company and the workmen of the latter were compelled to abandon their work. He said he was threatened with arrest when he called his workmen away, and the result was the blast was set off, which resulted in the shattering of the formation necessary for the timbers of the heading. In the opinion of W. A. Edeburn, an engineer, it would be impossible for the Pittsburgh company to continue its work if the other company continues as it has been.

Witnesses were called for the Mt. Washington company, who swore that there was no interference with the rights of the Pittsburgh company. Judge Stowe took the matter under advisement as to whether or not a new order should be made.

LAWYER GREW CAUSTIC.

Attorney Marron Waded Into Another Attorney for the Alleged Settlement of a Case.

Arguments were heard before Judge Brown in common pleas No. 1 upon the petition of Margaret Hasson of Braddock for the cancellation of a release she had signed in a suit brought against Braddock borough. Attorney A. D. Stevenson, representing the petitioner, alleged that Attorney William Yost, solicitor for the borough, took advantage of his client in settling for $150.

In his argument Mr. Yost contended there had been nothing to show any pursuasion had been used and that Mr. Stevenson received $50 of the amount. He also said Mrs. Hasson had not offered to return the money she alleged she was forced to accept. Attorney John Marron, also representing Mrs. Hasson, said no self-respecting lawyer would take advantage of a poor old woman, and was otherwise caustic in his remarks about the settlement of the case in the absence of the woman's lawyer. The court took the papers.

ONWARD AT FAULT.

Judge Buffington Holds Steamer Dauntless Blameless for a Collision.

Judge Buffington of the United States district court handed down an opinion yesterday in the case of Munhall Bros. against the steamboat Dauntless, finding the libellants negligent and not entitled to damages, and sustaining the cross libel of the owners of the Dauntless.

The action is the outcome of a collision between the steamers Onward and Dauntless on the Ohio river on November 25, 1895. The court says that the Onward was anchored in the river channel with her tow extending up and out into the river, a position in which she had not been forced in stress of navigation. The position was one of manifest danger to herself and tow, and others that would

HODGE'S ANSWER FILED TO MOTION FOR DISMISSAL

Claims Good Faith in Suit Against the U. S. Steel Corporation.

AFFIDAVITS ARE FILED BY PLAINTIFFS

It Is Alleged That the Defendant Company Is Intimidating Complainants and Attempting to Delay a Judicial Decision.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 8.—A brief was filed today in Newark, N. J., by the complainants in the action of J. Aspinwall Hodge, Jr., and others against the United States Steel Corporation to prevent the retirement of $200,000,000 preferred stock and the issue of $250,000,000 bonds by the corporation. The brief filed opposes a motion by the corporation's attorney that the suit be dismissed as a conspiracy.

Affidavits by Mr. Hodge as to his good faith in the suit and by John H. Lancaster denying alleged admissions made by him to a clerk of Mr. Guthrie of counsel for the defendant corporation were also filed today.

The brief filed by the attorneys for Mr. Hodge accuses the United States Steel corporation and its attorneys of tampering with James H. Lancaster, a witness for the complainants, of being afraid to examine Mr. Hodge, of intimidating and of attempting to delay a judicial decision on the merits of the case.

"As the position of these professional majority stockholders becomes more safe from ordinary attack, their boldness in violating equity and good morals proportionately increases," says Mr. Hodge, through his lawyers. "It is becoming more and more important for them to stifle inquiry in court and therefore, as a first step, to make it so disagreeable to sue them that they will not be sued."

Hodge Claims Good Faith.

The complainants ask for an early decision of their motion for an injunction to restrain the proposed retirement of stock and issue of bonds.

Mr. Hodge, in his affidavit, says that he has been a practicing member of the New York bar for about 15 years, and that this suit is being prosecuted by him in good faith, as he has always been opposed to the stock conversion plan and he hopes by this suit to prevent its consummation. Mr. Hodge further says that no person or corporation or party has agreed to idemnify him against his liability for costs of expenses in this action.

James H. Lancaster's affidavit contradicts sworn statements made by Joseph Corrigan, a clerk in the office of Mr. Guthrie of counsel for the steel corporation. Corrigan said Lancaster had declared to him that Lancaster had been paid for his testimony in this suit by David Lamar, and that he had been tricked and deceived. Lancaster, in his affidavit, gives the following account of an interview he had with Mr. Guthrie:

"Mr. Guthrie asked me whether I did not know that I had been retained in a 'strike suit,' to which I replied, 'I know no such thing.' Mr. Guthrie charged me in a very excited way with being in a conspiracy, and I indignantly denied that there was any conspiracy.

Lancaster Became Indignant.

"At this time Mr. Guthrie was threatening me, and endeavoring to intimidate me, but I said very frankly and bluntly to him that I told absolutely nothing except the truth in my affidavits in this suit, and that I would not submit to such language from anybody, and I got up to leave the room.

"At this point, the tone of Mr. Guthrie and his associates changed, and they began to ask me whether I was still in the employ of the complainants in this case. I told them that I had been paid in full for all my services to date and had been given a general release, and in that sense I was no longer in the employ of the complainants in the case, but that I would probably be retained by them when my testimony was required.

"They then said that they frequently had opportunities to employ an engineer like me, and might be able to throw something in my way, and I said simply that I was always willing to accept proper employment."

In conclusion, Lancaster said of the interview with Corrigan: "The attempt on Mr. Corrigan's part to make my conversation with him appear in the light of a confession of a perjured witness is a gross misrepresentation of everything stated by me to Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Corrigan."

DRAKE IN MORE TROUBLE.

Man Who Did Some Shooting Believed to Be a Clever Thief.

Charged with larceny, Hunter Drake of the South Side was committed to the Allegheny county jail yesterday by Magistrate McGarey, on the information of Clara Broste, of Second avenue and Ferry street, for a hearing on Friday.

Drake is believed to be one of the best jewelry thieves in the country. On Wednesday he was arrested for having shot at Edward Burns in a quarrel in a Diamond street saloon. He was discharged on the payments of a fine and costs. In the meantime Clara Broste discovered that he had taken a locket from her during a trip he made with her. She immediately made information against him and Drake was arrested yesterday by Police Inspector Fred Will.

The Clergy like it.—Here are a few names of clergymen of different creeds who are firm believers in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder to "live up to the preaching" in all its points. Bishop Sweatman, Rev. Dr. Langtry (Episcopalian); Rev. Dr. Withrow and Rev. Dr. Chambers (Methodist); and Dr. Newman, all of Toronto, Canada. Copies of their personal letters for the asking.—4.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.
